ALL ABOARD! — Driver Frank Phillips welcomes Ben A. Farlatti (center), owner of the Tiburon Lodge, and Seymour Kashin, general manager of the Marin County Transit District, aboard a new minibus that heralds the arrival of long awaited intra-county bus service in Marin. The trial run yesterday in Tiburon was a shakedown cruise for Monday's start of service by Marin County Transit Systems.

Ferry Feeder Bus System Begins Monday

BY WAT TAKESHITA

A new Marin City bus company, working on privately raised capital and a $12,000 county subsidy, will launch a commuter bus service to feed the Tiburon ferry Monday morning.

Two minibuses will pick up passengers from the Strawberry and Tiburon Peninsulas at 25 cents per ride and shuttle them to the Tiburon ferry. In the afternoon, the buses will meet each ferry and return passengers to Tiburon and Strawberry.

During mid-day, the buses will serve as a shopper shuttle seven days a week from Tiburon to the Strawberry Shopping Center and the Greyhound bus stop at Tiburon Wye.

The name of the new firm is Marin County Transit Systems, Inc., with headquarters at 11 Park Circle in Marin City. The company will get a $12,000 subsidy from the Marin County Transit District for the first three months of operation.

"This is a pilot project to prove once and for all that we can operate a bus system and solve the problem of intra-county transportation," said president Theophus Barron Jr., 37. Other officers of the company are Jesse Hebert of Mill Valley, executive vice president; Paul Kahn of Fairfax, technical coordinator; and David Townsel of Mill Valley, route supervisor.

A native of Texas, Barron has lived the past 30 of his 37 years in Marin, attending Tamalpais High School, San Rafael High school, and College of Marin. He now lives in Woodacre with his wife Marian and their two children. His father is Theophus Barron Sr., who operates a shoe repair shop in San Rafael.

Barron Jr. has worked as job counselor for the Neighborhood Youth Corps and as a carpenter. It was during his work with the Youth Corps that he saw the need, not only for training people for jobs but to create jobs for people after they are trained.

"It's no use just training people for jobs; you've got to create jobs," said Barron. "This (the new bus firm) is economic opportunity. It can put people to work and could become a major industry in the county."

Baron said he, Hebert and several other individuals drummed up enthusiasm for the Marin Transit Systems Inc. and rounded up private capital, from individuals and from bank loans, to invest in the new enterprise.

"We've already invested close to $50,000 in feasibility studies and in down payment on the two new buses," said Barron. The company put 20 per cent down on the two new buses, one costing $21,000 and the other $15,600. Each bus can carry 17 to 19 passengers, with room for an additional 10 standees.

The company plans to buy a third and larger bus, with a capacity of 27 to 32 passengers, by the end of February. This bus would extend the ferry feeder service into Mill Valley. This will eventually be called Route 1, from Old Mill Park to the Tiburon ferry terminal.

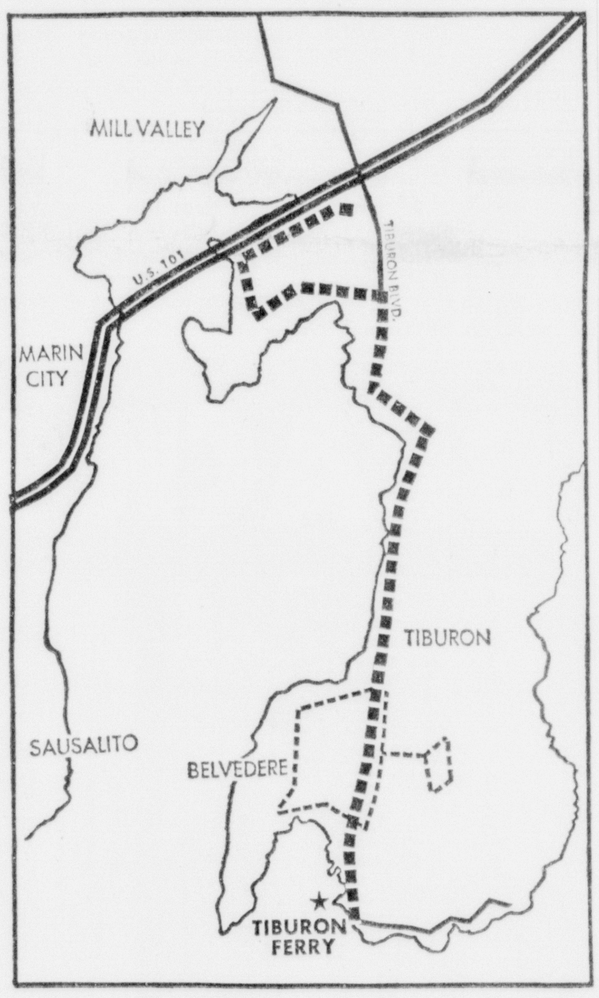

Barron estimated that projected revenue during the first three months of the demonstration run will be $7,468, and the projected expenses $22,776, leaving a deficit of $15,308 for the three months.

On Jan. 6, the Marin County Transit District board of directors voted a $12,000 subsidy to cover the deficit and urged Tiburon and Belvedere to chip in $2,000 each.

Kahn, the technical coordinator, said it will be difficult for the company to become entirely self-sufficient because of the limited patronage and lack of alternate services.

However, Baron announced the company will work toward self-sufficiency by first proving that a feeder bus system will work and then expanding the in-

FERRY FEEDER BUS — An experimental bus line will begin operating two buses Monday morning to shuttle commuters to the Tiburon ferry. One of the buses will take the route shown above, from the service road in front of Strawberry Shopping Center to Ricardo Road, back to Tiburon Boulvard and on to the ferry terminal in Tiburon. A second bus will run from Lyford Drive and Vistazo West to the ferry, picking up passengers on Beach Road, San Rafael Avenue, and Lagoon Drive.

Tommy Smothers Says Good Vibes Come From Werber

By MARY LEYDECKER

The funnier of the two Smothers Brothers came to Werber's trial in which the 40-year-old former Kingston Trio manager is charged with cultivating and possessing pot he says he needs for religious purposes to tell of his pot-smoking experiences with Werber.

Under cross-examination by Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales, Smothers said that he had smoked the weed with Werber both at Werber's home on De Silva Island at Richardson Bay and at Smothers's house in Mill Valley.

He himself has never had a religious exeprience from using marijuana, he said, but he gets "good vibrations" now from Werber, whom he didn't like when he first met him about 10 years ago.

"When Frank touches me on the shoulder, I feel very warm," Smothers said. When the two men embrace, Smothers said he gets the same vibrations.

Bales pressed Smothers to describe the vibrations, asking if they were "like a warm flash" or if they started at the top and went down through his body.

After Judge E. Warren McGuire chided the giggling crowd, composed mostly of love children and older hippie types, Smothers said it was difficult to describe the vibrations, which he also gets when he goes to

Christmas Fetes Hit In Schools

There was a call last night for public schools to de-emphasize Christmas activities.

It came from an audience of about 35 persons gathered at Miller Creek School in Marinwood for an open forum on "Religion in the Schools."

Residents said there is no Christmas joy for a Jewish schoolboy when his class mates are singing "Silent Night."

'LUDICROUS' POLL?

But one audience member warned many parents would defend Christmas in the schools and upbraided educators for seeking parents' opinions before acting on de-emphasis. He branded the idea as "ludicrous" as polling Mississippi parents on integration.

Neither are the deeply religious happy when schools lend their weight to the worldly aspect of the holiday, the Christmas tree, Santa Claus and gifts, others contended.

The controversial proposal to tone down Christmas activities came last November from the executive board of the Human Relations Council of the Dixie District Committee.

FETE CRITICIZED

"We find that the present expression of cultural religion, confined to the assumptive celebration of Christmas and Easter, offends Christians in its inaccuracy, offends non-Christians in its mis-emphasis, and is non-educative in character," the board stated in November.

The council, which sponsored the session, found backing from the audience, but got the word that the other residents in the area don't see any problem.

We realize we can't take Christmas totally out of the schools," said Olive Lewis, chairman of a recent council seminar on "Religion in the Schools."

One woman asserted that Christmas activities in schools were superfluous, since children were deluged with them in the stores, on television and at home.

Another resident contended that Jewish children are embarrassed when "very religious songs" are sung, and "ostracized if they do not wish to participate."

WORRIES FOR SON

Dr. David Rosen, elected council president earlier in the meeting, recalled his experience as the lone Jewish boy in a school gathering of 500 singing "Holy Night."

"I'd not like to put my child through that," he said.

Mrs. Morris A. Bode of 37 Mount Foraker Drive, said having a Jewish boy join in reciting a poem about "our Lord Jesus Christ, is highly offensive."

Mrs. Lewis emphasized the issue wasn't a Jewish-Christian split, and that the issue was becoming clouded. "It wasn't the Jewish members of the committee who were so upset about Christmas. It was the Christians."

These Christians view Christmas as a religious holiday, and teach it at home as a religious holiday, and then their children go to school "and hear Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer and Santa Claus" and "they resent it."

Hanoi's Paris Chief Returns; Blasts Nixon

PARIS (AP) — Le Duc Tho, a North Vietnamese politburo member, asserted today "we will make no concessions" if the United States tries to pressure his government for a peace settlement.

Returning to Paris after six months absence, Tho accused President Nixon of intensifying the war in Vietnam and of pursuing a policy of "step by step sabotage" of the peace talks.

Union Panel Asking G.E. Pact Approval

Wage Hike Of 25 Pct. Is Offered

NEW YORK (UPI) — Union negotiators decided today to recommend membership acceptance of a new contract with the General Electric Co. which would provide a 25 per cent wage increase and end the longest strike in GE history.

Officials for the International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE) and the United Electrical Workers (UE) announced their decision following morning-long separate meetings. Twelve other unions involved in the strike are expected to follow the pattern of the agreement in local negotiations with GE.

UP TO MEMBERS

The agreement now must be accepted by the full membership of the UE and the IUE to end the 4-week strike against the nation's fourth largest industrial firm.

Although previous contract agreements between GE and the IUE have been ratified only by the 158-member IUE-GE Conference Board, the union decided to submit this pact to the membership because "we think it is our working membership that has made this strike successful," an IUE spokesman said.

The 14-week strike idled 147,000 workers across the nation.

An official of the IUE, which represents the largest bloc of striking workers, disclosed that the pact provided wage increases of 25 per cent over a 40-month period, ending in May 1973. This would mean an average increase of 82 cents an hour for workers now earning $3.25 an hour. Skilled workers will receive special allowances which would bring the average increase to 86 cents an hour.

NIGHT STATEMENT

The tentative agreement was announced late Thursday night by Counts, Counts, who took personal command of the stalemated negotiations more than three weeks ago, expressed optimism about chances of final acceptance.

Workers at 280 GE plants in 33 states could return to their jobs within a week or 10 days, Counts said. A coalition of 13 unions, headed by the IUE and UE, struck Oct. 27 when the old contract expired. Both sides have estimated the strike has cost employes $20 million a week in wages and cost the nation's economy more than $2 billion.

Tax Looms For Treating Waste

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

FREMONT — Southern and Central Marin taxpayers were confronted with the prospect of financing massive improvements in sewage treatment and disposal yesterday by the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board. (Another water board story page 11.)

The prospect came in a staff recommendation that sewage wastes, even after treatment, be prohibited in the vicinity of Richardson Bay, Corte Madera Creek and San Rafael Bay.

The board was empowered to enact the prohibition by the state's tough new antiwater-pollution law, which became effective on Jan. 1. The law, the Porter-Cologne Act, specified that a regional board "may specify certain conditions or areas where the discharge of waste, or certain types of waste, will not be permitted."

The staff based its recommendation for the prohibition on the need to protect shellfishing in the three bodies of water.

It also recommended prohibiting all waste discharges into the bay south of Dumbarton Bridge, oil discharges "sufficient to cause irridescence," and dumping refuse "where it is likely to enter tidal waters."

The cost of piping the Marin sewage waste elsewhere, presumably deeper into the bay, was not estimated by the staff. But board chairman William C. Weber of San Mateo predicted that $1.6 billion will have to be

Budget In Excess Of $200 Billion Forecast

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Post reported today President Nixon will send to Congress a proposed fiscal 1971 federal budget totaling $200.8 billion.

The Post said the budget recommendations include a $5.8 billion cut in defense spending from the current $79.4 billion and major trimmings in expenditures for space, agriculture and veterans' benefits.

According to the newspaper, the budget will have a $1.3 billion surplus the President considers necessary to set the economy back on a steady base.

The current fiscal year expenditures are estimated at $197.8 billion.

The Post said the President's economic message, scheduled for Monday delivery to Congress, will also hint at some relaxation in the administration's tight money policy imposed to fight inflation.

Nixon will cite "economic credibility" as the goal of his budget, the Post article said, and will endorse "a moderate degree of monetary restraint."

The Post quoted Nixon's economic message as saying, "Personal freedom will be increased when there is more economy in government and less government in the economy."

The economic message will cite the need for establishing spending priorities, the Post said, in explaining why some federal programs cannot be given all the money they need, plus the necessity of meeting previously committed spending increases such as Social Security payments.

The Post also said Nixon will predict a slack first half of the fiscal year when, the paper quoted the President as saying, "some increase in the rate of unemployment is possible."

However, Nixon will say there

Carswell Calls Sheriff To Rebut Critic's Testimony

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss. of the Senate Judiciary Committee disclosed today he had Supreme Court nominee G. Harrold Carswell telephone a former Florida sheriff in an effort to rebut testimony by a Rutgers University law professor.

The testimony of the professor, John Lowenthal, about Carswell's handling of a civil rights case in 1964, had been termed "extremely damaging" by Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., unless rebutted.

Eastland said in an interview that he regarded Lowenthal's testimony as "weak and evasive" and quoted both Carswell and former sheriff Otho Edwards of Gadsden County, Florida, as disputing it.

Eastland said it was possible that Edwards would be called as a witness on Monday when the committee will resume its hearings on President Nixon's nomination of Judge Carswell to be a Supreme Court justice.

However, he said no decision on this had been reached—that it was up to the committee.

Eastland said the committee will finish its hearings Monday and go into executive session on Tuesday to consider Carswell's nomination. He said he hoped for a vote then and expressed confidence the committee will recommend Senate confirmation by a big margin.

Lowenthal's testimony Thursday afternoon dealt with a habeas corpus petition he filed in August 1964, to free seven persons jailed in Gadsden County on criminal trespass charges after they urged Negroes to register as voters.

Carswell, now a judge on the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, was then the U.S. District judge in Tallahassee and Lowenthal described him as taking an "extremely hostile" attitude

Blacks Say Bay Crusade Holding Out

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The leader of a black social workers group contends that minority groups aren't getting their share of United Bay Area Crusade funds.

Robert Jourdan, chairman of the Bay Area Association of Black Social Workers, interrupted a luncheon meeting of the Crusade at the Hilton Hotel Thursday to voice his complaints.

"It's time for a change to take place in this farce of a meeting," Jourdan said from the floor before the luncheon was over.

Jourdan criticized the meeting for "rubber stamping a new slate of officers" and asked: "Why don't you hold an election in a more public place? The poor can't afford to come here."

Crusade Board Chairman B.F. Biaggini said, "We've been going in the direction of minorities" and asked Jourdan to come to the podium to speak.

Jourdan asked that the Crusade's board members be selected from low-income groups and have more black representation. He said that "highest priotity" should be given to funding of minority social agencies.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Battle In Florida

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Young Negroes, angered by court orders to abandon their all-black school, ripped out lockers, kicked over desks and battered police and civilian vehicles with rocks for two hours Thursday before they were scattered by tear gas.

Police said six persons — including two white teachers — were injured during the disturbance at Lincoln High School. Two pupils were charged with aggravated assault.

Isaac Caffey, the assistant principal, called the violence "just an uprising in the closing hours of our school. They don't want to go anywhere else."

Caffey said Lincoln's 1,200 pupils have been reassigned to six other schools to effect a desegregation plan upheld last week by the U.S. Supreme Court. The final day of classes had been scheduled today, but were canceled Thursday afternoon.

Rockets Missing

BANGKOK (AP) — The U.S. Air Force is missing 12 rockets for its planes at the Udorn base in Northeast Thailand.

"The Air Force is not exactly sure what happened to them," a U.S. Embassy spokesman said. "They may have used them. But a check of the inventory did not account for them."

The Air Force notified the Udorn police in case the 2.75-inch missiles were stolen from the base and turn up in the town.

Meanwhile, the Embassy said, the matter is "under investigation."

Testing Bucher

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher, skipper of the captured spy ship Pueblo, is undergoing physical tests at the Navy's Oak Knoll Hospital.

"The problem seems to be his eyes," a hospital spokesman said Thursday. "He gets headaches, possibly because of the demands of his studies."

After noting that other tests also were being made, the spokesman said that Bucher's physical troubles are "not necessarily connected" with the period from Jan. 23 to Dec. 24, 1968, when Bucher and his 82-man crew were held prisoners in North Korea.

Since last May, Bucher has been assigned to the Navy's graduate school at Monterey, Calif., for a one-year course aimed at gaining a master's degree in management.

London Marriage

LONDON (AP) — Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery's son married author Daphne Du Maurie's daughter today in a Kensington registry office.

It was the second marriage for both David Montgomery and Tessa Browning, and each has two children. Lord Montgomery did not attend the ceremony because the weather was bad.

The bride's father also was a military man, the late Lt. Gen. Sir Frederick Browning. He served in Southeast Asia in World War II.

Indians' Plans

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The American Indian invaders of Alcatraz are preparing requests for grants from some of the nation's biggest philantrophic foundations to help build their cultural and education center on the old prison island.

The proposals probably will be submitted to the Ford and Rockefeller foundations and other large funds, according to Grace Thorpe, a Sac and Fox indian who is one of the island's 114 occupants.

She said the money would be used to plan an education and cultural center, including a university and museum, and for architects to determine which prison buildings could be renovated and which ones razed.

The university would teach "the true history of the American Indian" and include an ecology center "to impart what we've known all these thousands of years about keeping the earth in the natural state."

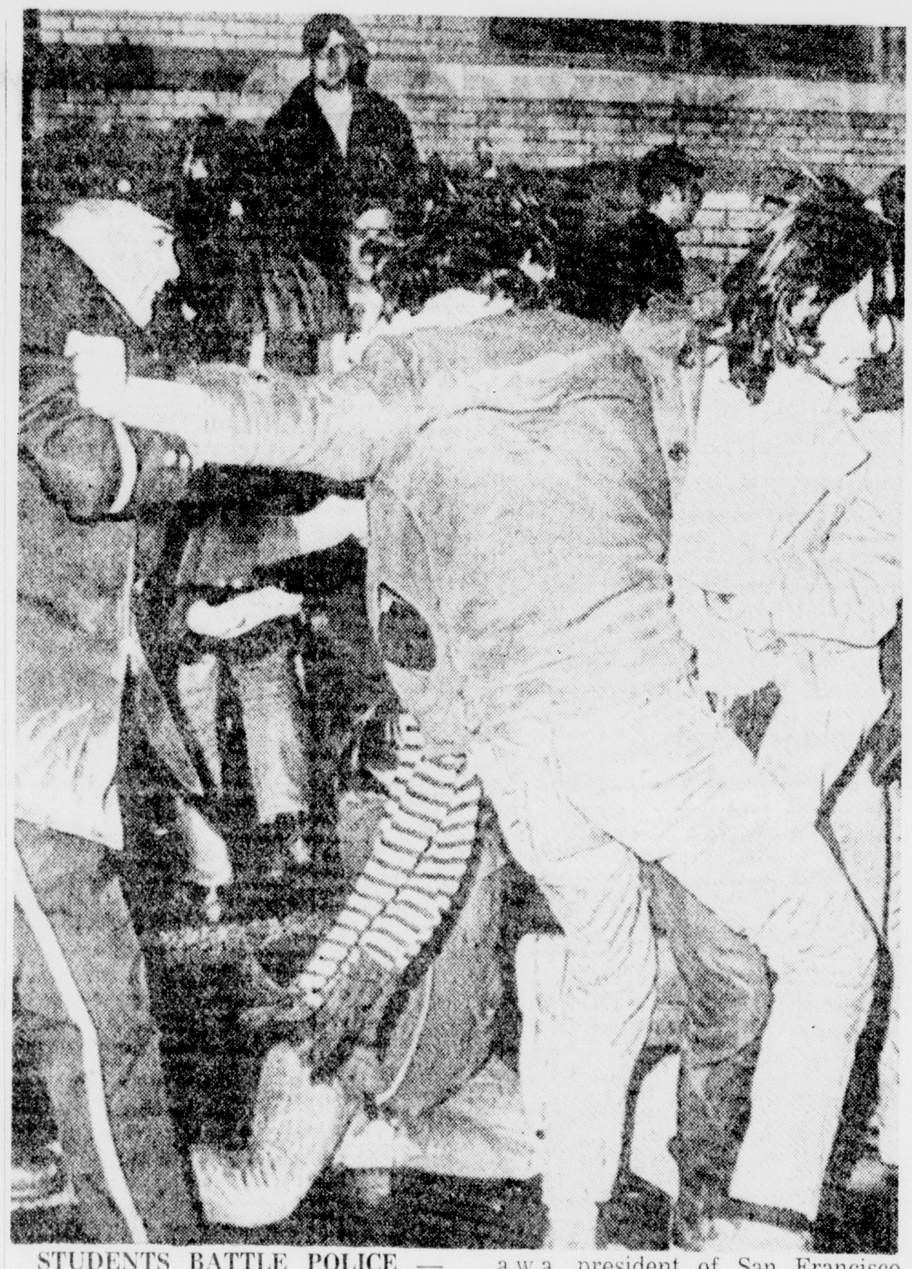

Od Bull To Quit

JERUSALEM (AP) — Lt. Gen. Odd Bull, Norwegian chief of U.N. cease-fire observers in the Middle East, is going to retire in a few months, the Jerusalem Post reported today.

The newspaper said Bull plans to return to Norway.

U.N. headquarters in Jerusalem declined to comment on the report. A spokesman said any statement would have to come from U.N. headquarters in New York.

Bull has headed the U.N. mission in Jerusalem since 1963. His successor is not yet known here, the Post said.

STUDENTS BATTLE POLICE — This was the scene outside Ell Student Center at Northeastern University in Boston where students were turned back at the door in a planned protest of a talk by Dr. S. I. Hayakawa, president of San Francisco State College, who is from Mill Valley. Police arrested 30 students during the outbreak which spread into an adjoining business district. (AP Wirephoto)

Melee At Hayakawa Talk

BOSTON (UPI)—More than 25 persons were injured and 30 arrested Thursday night when hundreds of youthful demonstrators blocked from entering a Northeastern University building where Dr. S. I. Hayakawa was speaking, clashed with police and went on a rock-throwing spree.

At least 13 police and more than a dozen youths were injured in the clash that spread into a business district. Police said at least 30 of the demonstrators were arrested in the protest over the San Francisco State University president's appearance.

The turmoil started when more than 1,000 persons tried to force their way into the Ell Student Center where the controversial Hayakawa was delivering a speech entitled "Can the University Survive in the 20th Century?" as part of the university's Distinguished Lecture Series.

A force of nearly 100 police officers aided by trained dogs barred entrance to the demonstrators when school officials announced the 1,300-seat auditorium was filled and no more people would be allowed inside.

Shouting "People in, pigs out," "Rush the door," the youths attempted to battle their way past the officers who beat them back with nightsticks.

The demonstrators hurled rocks, chunks of ice and snowballs, breaking several windows in the student center. The doors to the center were smashed.

About 45 minutes later, the youths again attempted to get into the building, but police drove them into the university quadrangle and onto busy Huntington Avenue. The demonstrators ran down the street breaking windows in stores and cars.

Agents' Role As Saigon Newsmen

SAIGON (AP) — The Embassy said today that the four secret agents the U.S. military tried to pass off as members of the Saigon press corps were on an "operational mission ... completely unrelated to the local Vietnamese and foreign press corps or their activities."

A spokesman for U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker would not say, however, what the mission was or how it might have been furthered by having the agents—two Americans and two South Vietnamese—masquerade as correspondents.

"Appropriate disciplinary action will be taken against the individual or individuals involved," the spokesman said.

He also announced that Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, had ordered a "thorough review of existing press accreditation ... to assure full compliance" with the policy of the U.S. Mission (Embassy) and the U.S. Military Assistance Command Vietnam—MACV.

The four agents who were identified as employes of a U.S. military investigative organization, were Howard B. Hethcox, William T. Tucker, Nguyen Van Vien and Nguyen Van Thien. They were issued press credentials by MACV on Jan. 8 and turned in their cards Tuesday after inquiries from legitimate newsmen indicated their cover had been blown.

Newsmen suspected that they had been infiltrated into the press corps to spy out military personnel leaking information that the U.S. Command wanted to keep from the public.

A MACV spokesman said after the agents were discovered that the persons responsible for accrediting them had been "admonished" about proper accreditation procedures. This amounted to an oral reprimand. A review of the list of accredited correspondents was begun Thursday to verify the legitimacy of all correspondents.

The U.S. Mission spokesman said the American ambassador, by presidential directive, is responsible for all U.S. information programs in Vietnam including relations with the American and foreign press.

"On matters of press accreditation," he continued, "Mission policy is that accreditation be limited to legitimate members of the information media to facilitate the timely dissemination of news from Vietnam to the American public and peoples of other countries. It is contrary to that policy to extend accreditation to individuals for any other purpose ...

"In the case of Messrs. Hethcox and Tucker and the two Vietnamese nationals, these individuals are employes of a U.S. military investigative organization. They improperly secured MACV press accreditation for furtherance of an operational mission which is completely unrelated to the local Vietnamese and foreign press corps or their activities. The accreditation of these individuals was contrary to mission and MACV policies, directives and procedures.

"Action has been taken to identify the individuals who initiated the action leading to the accreditation. Upon such identification appropriate disciplinary action will be taken against the individual or individuals involved."

Vox Populi Worries Span Board

Member of the public should be permitted to address the Golden Gate Bridge District board only with the unanimous consent of all directors, the board's president proposed yesterday.

William Moskovitz of San Francisco told the rules and policy committee that this was the policy of the San Francisco Board of Supervisors, and he moved to make it district policy, too.

But Moskovitz withdrew his proposal pending a staff study of how other public bodies accommodate those who want to address them. The district has no policy at all on the subject, committee chairman Edwin M. Fraser of Del Norte County noted.

Lack of such a policy has frustrated increasing efforts by a critical public to address directors's meetings. Committee chairmen sometimes have claimed the public could address only the full board, and Moskovitz has insisted—but often not carried out—an informal policy permitting public comment only from those listed on the agenda in advance.

The only person to address the committee, Margaret Azevedo of Tiburon, speaking for the Marin Council for Civic Affairs, attempted to urge that anyone be allowed to address directors' meetings without arranging to do so before hand.

But director E.J.Guidotti of Sonoma County interrupted her. Citing the committee's direction to have the staff see how other public bodies handle what he termed "a very touchy subject." Guidotti said, "Don't rub it in please—don't criticize us and run us down—we realize we're in trouble, my God!"

Fraser, trying to quiet Guidotti, assured Mrs. Azevedo that the board would "bend over backwards to accommodate the public, but we don't want the public to come here and interrupt our meetings."

Guidotti added that her compaints should be directed at "the behavior of your representatives on this board." None of Marin's three representatives was present.

Director Daniel F. Del Carlo of San Francisco said he disagreed with Moskovitz's proposal, saying "the people are entitled to speak." But he then suggested that members of the public instead put their comments in writing.

Mrs. Azevedo noted that any member of the public was allowed to speak during meetings of the Marin supervisors, the Bay Area Rapid Transit District board and the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission.

"If you believe in a public," she said, "and you believe it can be helpful, it sometimes will have to be heard."

Mrs. Azevedo also urged the directors to stick to their policy of not acting on committee recommendations for two weeks. Moskovitz insisted that "we've always done so in the past," but she noted that in December the board approved a committee recommendation to hike commuter tolls within an hour after the committee made its unannounced recommendation.

Mrs. Azevedo also suggested that the bridge board start preparing advance agenda of its meetings. At present, no agenda are prepared for any bridge board meeting.

Guidotti asked if her appearance before the committee had been authorized by the MCCA.

When she answered that it had been authorized by the council's executive committee, Guidotti commented that "then your members don't know anything about this."

Mrs. Azevedo attempted to respond, but was cut off by Guidotti. "That's enough, I have your answer," he said.

In other business, the committee dropped a suggestion that the board limit the time allowed directors to discuss matters before the board. "They'll pop off anyway," Del Carlo said.

Instead, the committee voted unanimously to send all 18 directors a copy of Robert's Rules of Order.

Director Stephan C. Leonoudakis of San Francisco, said it was up to the chairman of a meeting to run it properly, a comment that brought an angry response from Moskovitz. "I try to the best of my ability," Miskovitz, "and I resent those remarks."

Leonodakis insisted he did not intend his comment to be taken "personally by anyone."

Wife Accused Of Hiring A Murderer

HOUSTON (UPI) — Billie Clodfelter, a plump, blonde, 40-year-old widow, kneeled to place a yellow Chrysanthemum on her husband's grave Wednesday. She was arrested Thursday and charged with having him murdered so she could collect $250,000 in insurance.

Her husband, auto dealer Tony W. Clodfelter, was shot to death Jan. 8 in the office of his used car lot.

Police detective Jim Pierce said Thursday Mrs. Clodfelter hired Wesley Leon Colbert, 56, to kill her husband. Colbert was charged with the murder. He was already in custody in Harris County jail on a variety of criminal charges.

Pierce said Mrs. Clodfelter's best friend, a 38-year-old sales woman, gave police a written statement. "She began telling me of her problem with her husband and said she wanted to get rid of him," the informant said.

She said she introduced Mrs. Clodfelter to Colbert in May. "I have been the go-between carrying messages back and forth," she said.

The informant said Colbert was to receive $20,000, but that as far as she knew he only got $900, which was delivered the day after the slaying.

Mrs. Clodfelter began sobbing hysterically when police came Thursday to arrest her. "No, No, No," she cried. "I didn't kill him. I was at my husband's grave yesterday. I put a plant there."

"I just thought they'd come to ask some more questions about his murder," she said, telling of her reaction when police arrived.

"Please spare my children anything you can," she asked weakly, choaking and sobbing. The children are 15, 11, and 10.

Mothers Protest Teachers' Strike

LONDON (UPI)—Sixty mothers, some pushing baby carriages, stormed the city council offices Thursday looking for Sir William Houghton, chief of the London Education Authority. He was gone.

They told a spokesman for him they were tired of staying home from jobs to care for their children, kept home by a teachers' strike. They appealed to the authority to authorize a pay raise to end the strike.

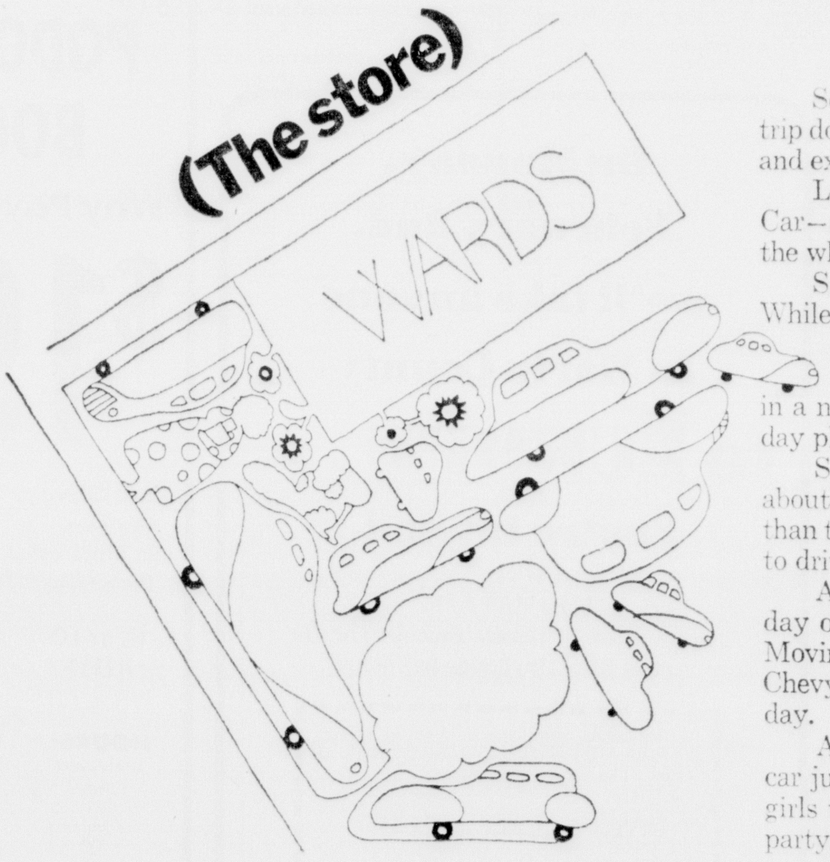

Cyprus Cracks Down On Terrorist Front

NICOSIA (UPI)—The Cypriot House of Representatives approved Thursday night a bill enabling authorities to detain suspected terrorists without trial up to three months.

The law was one of a series of measures the government has come up with to fight the outlawed extremist National Front. The organization has been accused of terrorism in a campaign in support of Cyprus' unin with Greece.

NOW, RENTING CARS IS AS SIMPLE AS A QUICK TRIP TO THE STORE.

Seems like every time you take that trip down to Wards you make some new and exciting discovery.

Like Montgomery Ward Rent A Car—a new concept in convenience for the whole family.

Say the family car breaks down. While you're having it expertly serviced at Ward's Service Center, you can be driving about your business in a new Chevy for as little as $6.00 a day plus mileage, gas and oil included.

Say you've got friends and relatives about to visit you. What better welcome than to provide them with a new Chevy to drive while they're here.

A new Chevelle costs just $7.00 a day or $42.00 per week plus mileage. Moving? Save a fortune by renting a Chevy van or pickup for just $9.00 a day.

And how often does dad have the car just when mom wants to drive the girls to lunch, a baby shower, a card party, a theatre? It happens all the time.

Precisely why we felt the need for a family type rent a car service like ours, offering you any current model Chevrolet, with gas, oil and complete insurance coverage included in one low price.

Manila Police Beat Back Student Attack On Palace

MANILA (UPI)—Students led by a left-wing youth group attacked the presidential palace for three hours tonight before being driven back by police and marines. One group stole a fire truck, smashed it through the palace gates and set it afire.

At least one student demonstrator was reported dead of gun wounds in the battle in which the students attacked with molotov bombs, stones and bottles and were beaten back with clubs, water cannon and tear gas.

President Ferdinand E. Marcos and his family were inside the old Spanish Malacanang Palace but the students were driven back before they could reach the living quarters. It was the second attack on Marcos in a week.

A presidential spokesman, Francisco Tatad, said in an official statement the attack was the work of "subversive elements." He said the students set fire to the Malacanang Clinic, burned a fire truck and two other vehicles and wounded members of the presidential security unit.

Tonight's demonstration by 3,000 youths was called to protest alleged police brutality in their first attack a week ago in which police beat off students who hurled bottles, sticks and stones at Marcos and his wife as they left Congress.

Marcos was not hurt in that attack either.

Scattered street fights swirled over a five square block area near the palace. Demonstrators were reported to have stoned dozens of cars and at least one bus.

A Philippine National Bank building and San Beda College were damaged by flying rocks. A bus was overturned and burned to block one street. snipers were reported in one area.

Presidential spokesman Tatad said, "While the government supports the right of any group to demonstrate, it shall not tolerate violence. Charges will be filed against those who participated in this public act of violence, especially cases of vandalism."

After Monday's riot, Marcos took a conciliatory stance and asked police to drop charges against students who were arrested.

In his statement issued through Tatad, Marcos said he had directed Justice Secretary Juan Ponce Enrile to "study the possibility of suspending from office (Manila) Mayor Antonio J. Villegas for refusing to discharge his duties in maintaining peace and order at a time when it was his most urgent duty to do so."

WERBER

Werber's home or restaurant, the Trident in Sausalito.

Smothers admitted he didn't know whether Werber's spiritualism was due to marijuana use or not but said "it's a life style with him."

He added, "When I see him, he simplifies my problems."

He also said that he and Werber belong to a congregation which includes the 450,000 persons who went to the Woodstock Rock Festival last summer.

About his own religion, Smothers was fuzzy. A baptised Episcopalian, he said he usually attends church only on Christmas and Easter "like most Christians."

He picked the word "humanism" as descriptive of his religion and said it meant "to become one with all the terrible things that are happening."

Under cross-examination by Bales, Smothers readily admitted his own use of marijuana but wouldn't say where he obtains it. "People lay it on you, like love beads," he said.

Smothers at one point gave a flippant answer to Bales about whether he had ever used heroin but quickly changed his mind and seriously said, "Of course not."

After Smothers finished testifying, Rev. A. Cecil Williams of Glide Methodist Church in San Francisco took the stand to say that he also gets "good vibrations" from Werber and he thinks it is possible Werber has had religious experiences with marijuana.

Earlier in the day, Werber's attorney, Terrence Hallinan, finally succeeded in getting six bulging seabags of marijuana out of the case. McGuire ruled that since the seabag marijuana had not been involved in the evidence presented to the grand jury that indicted Werber, the defendant's due process had been denied when he didn't know what he was charged with.

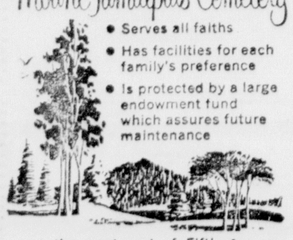

Werber was acquitted last summer in federal court of conspiring to import the seabags from Mexico, saying that he was framed by two men arrested at the Texas border who led agents to his house.

He readily admitted, however, to possessing the rest of the marijuana found in his home, which included an additional kilo delivered by two other men the night of his arrest on Oct. 14, 1968.

He also said yesterday that he planted the marijuana found growing outside his home in a corn patch. "Corn and marijuana love each other," he added. "After you pulled up the marijuana, the corn died," he told Bales.

Presented by Bales with a transcript of his testimony in the federal trial, Werber admitted that he had compared his marijuana supply to a liquor cabinet but said that his attorney had told him not to muddle the federal case with the religious issue.

The trial is due to resume Tuesday in the new Hall of Justice.

spent in the next five years to start cleaning up the bay. Some $400 million was spent in the past 20 years, he said.

Norman B. Livermore Jr., secretary of the State Resources Agency, has said that the job of cleaning up bay pollution will cost every Bay Area homeowner $1,500, a member of the regional board's staff noted.

The staff recommendation, which Weber estimated would take six months of hearings before reaching board action, would affect sanitary districts serving Sausalito, Marin City, Tamalpais and Homestead valleys, Mill Valley, Alto, Tiburon, Belvedere, Corte Madera, Larkspur, Kentfield, Ross, San Quentin Prison, San Rafael, San Anselmo and Fairfax.

Weber told the Independent-Journal that it was too soon to estimate how long the districts would be given to comply with such an order by the board.

Property taxpayers will pay "a big share" of the bill, he said, "but it won't be possible without Federal and state aid."

(Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, yesterday introduced a constitutional amendment to raise $44.1 million annually for state grants to local agencies to improve water-pollution control.

(The amendment, designed to provide state matching funds under the Nixon administration's proposed $10 billion anti-water-pollution program, called for a five-year statewide tax on property improvements at the rate of 20 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

(The amendment would require approval by two thirds of the voters on a statewide ballot.)

Residents pointed out that pupils were "a captive audience" for Christmas activities.

One man suggested that the schools "treat Christmas as we treat other holidays, like Washington's Birthday or Lincoln's Birthday," and give it one-day notice.

There were comments that the school educational program sags for several weeks before Christmas because of the emphasis on the holiday.

Raymond T. Riley, assistant superintendent of instruction in the Dixie School District, explained that the council's request had been referred to the district's coordinating council, which was getting reactions from parent groups at district schools.

One resident reported that the parent group at Bernard Hoffman didn't find the Christmas activities a problem, and there was comment that other parent groups felt the same way.

There was some protest against the school's office basing its decision on the opinions of parent groups.

"This is ludicrous," one man said. "If you polled the parents in Mississippi on integration, you know what the answer would be."

There was general agreement with a council recommendation that there be teaching about all religions, and their impact on culture and history.

The council urged that there be "inclusion of religion in the study of all cultures, beginning with kindergarten and continuing through the eighth grade."

Mrs. Lewis said the intent is to note the holidays of all religions, and have Christmas "brought into perspective."

Arthur A. Chapman, superintendent of social studies for Tamalpais High School District, emphasized that teachers "don't have the right" to impose their ideas on religion on their students.

Before the discussion Rosen was elected council president for 1970, Mrs. Jean Bradman, vice president, Mrs. Val Brokes, recording secretary, Mrs. Carole Ellis, corresponding secretary, and Philip Bastian, treasurer.

CARSWELL

toward the habeas corpus petition.

Lowenthal, a volunteer lawyer for the voter registration workers, said that Carswell granted the petition but refused to have the court marshal serve the order on the Gadsden County sheriff. Lowenthal said he had to do it himself.

The witness testified that when he got to the mail and presented the writ, the sheriff released the prisoners but then immediately rearrested them because, he said, Carswell had the marshal call ahead and inform the sheriff he was sending the case back to the county for trial, instead of hearing it in federal court.

Eastland quoted Edwards as saying in a telephone conversation today that he "got no such word" and as saying that he had talked to Carswell only once in his life—and that was this morning.

"I had Judge Carswell call him," Eastland said in answer to a reporter's question.

Eastland also quoted Carswell as saying that he never called an officer about anything like that in his life.

Lowenthal, in testifying that Carswell had tipped off the sheriff that he could rearrest the voter registration workers, said he could not recall whether he heard this first-hand in the judge's chambers or second-hand through another volunteer lawyer.

Divorce Sought By Mrs. Schwab

The wife of Charles R. Schwab, president of the San Rafael mutual fund firm, Investment Indicators, has asked that their 12-year-old marriage be dissolved.

In a petition filed in Marin Superior Court, Susan Schwab, who is active in Republican affairs, cited irreconcilable differences.

According to the petition, the Schwabs were married Dec. 27, 1958, and separated on June 12, 1969. They have three children, Carolyn, 9; Virginia, 7, and Charles, 5. The family home is at 40 Oak Mountain Court, San Rafael.

Mrs. Schwab said there is community property valued at $685,300 which includes over $100,000 in marketable securities as well as stock in various firms, including Investment Indicators.

Mrs. Schwab, who has been a member of both the Marin and state Republican central committees, last summer was named to a commission on education reform by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

Correct District

It is the North Marin County Water District which set up the portable purification unit at Point Reyes Station, and not Marin Municipal Water District as reported in a picture caption in yesterday's Independent-Journal. Point Reyes Station lies within the North Marin Water District.

OBITUARY

Richard Edward Levinson

Richard Edward Levinson, 41, of 1015 Bel Marin Keys Boulevard, Novato, died yesterday of a heart attack.

He was stricken at his home during dinner and was pronounced dead on arrival at Novato General Hospital. He had a history of heart trouble, according to the Marin County coroner.

Born in Chicago, Ill., he had lived in California four years, operating David's Antiques in San Francisco for the last three. He had lived in Novato a year and a half.

He is survived by a son, Richard Levinson Jr. of the home and his father, Edward Levinson of Beverly Hills.

The body will be sent to Groman Mortuary in Los Angeles for funeral and burial. Redwood Chapel Funeral Home in Novato was in charge of local arrangements.

BUDGET

may be a moderate revival in the year's second half, the Post said.

The Post, in quoting from the message, said the President will concede that economic policy is walking a tightrope in attempting to reach what appears to be conflicting objectives.

But, the Post said, he will predict a 1970 Gross National Product (GNP) of $985 billion, about 5.5 per cent above last year.

Nixon will also claim, the newspaper said, that progress was made last year in fighting inflation with "slowing pains" evident in declines in profits, industrial production and public and private spending.

Further, the Post said, Nixon will claim "faint signs of gain on the price front" at the end of 1969, and a leveling out of the rate of inflation.

The Post said the message alludes to the easing of monetary policy only indirectly.

"'A prudent fiscal policy,'" the newspaper quotes the President, "'avoiding the risks of returning to budget deficits, and a prudent monetary policy, avoiding the risks of overly long and overly severe restraint offer the best promise . . .'

"'Keeping the federal budget in balance . . . and a moderate degree of monetary restraint . . . would also permit residential construction to revive and begin a rise toward the path of homebuilding required by our growing number of families needing homes and apartments,' he will say."

The Post reported that figures in the message show that proposed space spending during the year beginning July 1 will total $3.4 billion, down $486 million.

Other comparisons: Agricultural programs will spend $5.4 billion, $949 million less than in the year ending June 30; health expenditures would rise nearly $1.7 billion to $14.9 billion; and income security programs, including social security, would expand $6.5 billion to $50.4 billion.

Mine Union Killing Probe Moves South

By STEPHEN MORROW

CLEVELAND (UPI) — With three Cleveland men charged in Pennsylvania with murder and under federal indictment here for conspiracy to kill union mine official Joseph A. "Jock" Yablonski, authorities swung their investigation today into the Tennessee soft coal fields.

FBI agents were scheduled to meet today with Campbell County (Tenn.) Sheriff Rose Kitts who said he was holding three men from the La Follette, Tenn., area in connection with the Yablonski murder investigation.

Kitts did not identify the men but it was reported they were acquaintances of Paul E. Gilly, 36, Claude E. Vealey, 27, and Aubran W. Martin, 23, who were indicted here Thursday on charges of conspiring to kill Yablonski.

The federal indictment also named Gilly's wife, Annette, and James C. Phillips, 22, as co-conspirators but not co-defendants in the plot. Gilly's wife is a native of La Follette, where her father, Sollius Huddleston, 65, still resides.

It was reported Huddleston had been a former bodyguard for United Mine Workers (UMW) President W. A. "Tony" Boyle, who defeated Yablonski last month for the union presidency in a bitterly contested election. Huddleston, a retired UMW organizer, testified before the grand jury here Thursday and was expected to be recalled when the panel reconvenes next Tuesday.

Gilly, Vealey and Martin have been confined to a maximum security section of the Cuyahoga County Jail under a total of $775,000 bond since their arrest Jan. 21. Phillips, identified as a member of the conspiracy who backed out at the last minute, supplied the FBI with information that led to the arrests.

The armistice which ended the Korean War was signed July 27, 1953.

Author Contradicts Testimony On Rioting

CHICAGO (UPI) — Terry Southern, author of the novel "Candy" and the screenplay "Dr. Strangelove," today contradicted prosecution testimony about a night of violence during the 1968 Democratic National Convention.

Southern was called as a defense witness in the trial of seven men accused of conspiring to incite riots during the convention.

Earlier in the marathon trial, prosecution witnesses have named one of the defendants, Rennie Davis, as the man who mounted a barricade and urged demonstrators on while police closed in on them in Lincoln Park on the night of Aug. 26.

Southern testified he had seen such a scene. In fact, he said, he watched a young man mount the barricade and throw "a large rock" at a police car. The car's window was shattered, Southern said, and "all hell broke loose."

But Southern described the man he saw as a husky six-footer with a crew cut. Davis is of medium build and his hair tends to be shaggy.

Southern said he was assigned by the magazine Esquire to cover the convention as part of a team which included two avantgarde writers, William Burroughs and Jean Genet.

He said he joined Burroughs and Genet in fleeing the park as tear gas canisters exploded about them. The writers hid in the foyer of an apartment building, he said, but pursuing policemen "were actually going into each hallway along the street and pulling people out."

When the policemen reached the building where they were hiding, Southern said, " suddenly thought of eGnet, who is 60 or 62 years old."

He said he turned to the French writer and saw him "presenting his head for the officer to hit." Southern said Genet did so with "a very saintlike expression" and the policeman's club "stopped in midair."

Courthouse Shop Center Idea Favored

The Irate taxpayers of Marin last night called for commercial use of Courthouse Square in San Rafael and preservation of the old courthouse building.

The group endorsed the plan suggested by Timothy W. O'Donoghue Jr., Novato real estate developer and promoter. This plan calls for development of the old building into a shopping center while preserving the grounds and original appearance of the structure.

Publicity chairman Winifred E. Frederick reported the group felt this use of the building would profide revenue for both San Rafael and the county.

Nancy Olmstead's proposal of an education and art center was opposed by the group because it would serve only a segment of the population and would remove the building from the tax rolls, Mrs. Frederick added.

The taxpayers group also voted to oppose the request by Betty Presley, county director of social services for 31 new jobs in her department, Mrs. Frederick said. Fifteen of the positions will come before the board of supervisors for consideration Feb. 10, she added.

Irate Taxpayers of Marin also:

TAXES — Heard a report by Dr. Elmer S. Weden Jr. of San Anselmo on the Hickman Initiative Amendment calling for removal of property taxes from improvements and levying them on only the land.

CAR — Condemned Marin Junior College District trustees for authorizing purchase of a car for Dr. John A. Gresham college superintendent and president.

MEETING — Approved changing monthly meeting from third to fourth Thursday at 8 p.m. The place has not been decided.

Last Ditch Try To Halt Rail Strike

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Negotiators for shopcraft unions and the nation's railroads agreed today to a government request to make another effort to settle their contract dispute that has raised a new threat of a rail shutdown.

Negotiations had broken down Thursday night and the unions said a strike was likely — possibly before Monday.

The chief union negotiator, William W. Winpisinger said there would be no nationwide walkout but railroad management has said it will not permit a "selective strike" and almost all lines would shut down if the unions tried to strike a selected few.

Winpisinger and John P. Hiltz, the chief railroad negotiator, both said they agreed to a request by William J. Usery Jr., an assistant labor secretary, to attend a 3:30 p.m. EST meeting.

After the talks were broken off Thursday night, Winpisinger said, "I think there will be a strike. "He said Monday had been mentioned as a possible deadline for an agreement but that no specific deadline had been set.

Bomb Explodes In Movie House

SAIGON (AP) — A bomb exploded in a restroom off the balcony of a downtown movie theater tonight and blew a gaping hole through a wall of a U.S. officers' billet next door.

Moments after the blast hundreds of young moviegoers streamed out of the theater, some of them bleeding. Several young Vietnamese girls were crying in panic.

There were no reports of any casualties in the officers' billet.

Getting A Kick Out Of Karate

SMALL BUT CAPABLE — She may be small, but Lorene Kreutzer shows how even little girls can successfully fend off an attacker by throwing a well-placed chop to the ribs or throat.

GOING FOR A FALL—Benson takes tumble as Kelly forcefully extricates himself from a head lock and takes a chop at his opponent. Kelly holds a black belt, judo's highest rank and Benson is holder of a brown belt, second highest rating.

FRONTAL ATTACK — Kelly uses a spinning rear karate kick to ward off an attack from the front as young students from the karate school (left) pay close attention to his techniques.

EAGER TO LEARN — Students at Marin Country Day School appear to be watching every move closely as Kelly and Benson explain and execute the various karate moves. For some of the students, it was the first view of the ancient art.

Corte Madera Recreation Gap To Close?

The Corte Madera Park and Recreation Commission moved Wednesday to end a recreation program gap that has existed since the resignation last August of Robert C. Bundy, who was recreation director for both Corte Madera and Larkspur.

The commission recommended the town council contract with the city of San Rafael for a recreational program. The suggestion came from a special recreation committee which has studied the question for several months, secretary Marilyn Wilson reported yesterday.

Neither Larkspur nor Corte Madera has had an organized recreation program since Bundy left for another job.

The commission also gave its blessing to an ambitious plan by Boy Scout Don Hiller, who sought permission to build a footpath into a hillside wilderness area above Paradise Drive.

The land was deeded to the city by a subdivision developer. Hiller's path, which would include a wooden bridge and terraced steps, would be built with volunteer scout labor and materials provided by the scouts.

The commission approved Hiller's plan and said town staff should inquire about a needed 20-foot easement from a neighboring property owner.

The Corte Madera Park and Recreation Commission also:

CHRISTMAS TREES--Recommended that the annual Christmas tree burn next year be a token ceremony, held at the town park fire pits instead of in the Village Square triangle as in the past. The triangle should be landscaped, the commission said. The action came after a letter of protest from Genevieve Garrison about air pollution and the 1970 burning ban.

TENNIS TRIM--Ordered three eucalyptus trees bordering tennis courts at town park cut down. A petition from 12 tennis players asked that the trees be trimmed because they shaded the courts and dripped water on them.

DOG CLUB--Recommended the town council grant a waiver to allow the Marin County Dog Club use an acre of town park June 21 for an obedience trail. The club will use an amplified paging system and under park use rules the council must approve use of any amplification system.

LUTZI--Approved a request by Roy Lutzi, physical education instructor at Neil Cummins School, for use of the town fly casting pool and baseball diamond. Diamond use will be coordinated by town staff with Little League schedules.

Star's Arrest Suit Dismissed

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A $5 million suit filed by actress Hedy Lamarr against a department store charging false arrest for shoplifting in 1966 has been dismissed in superior court.

A court commisisoner ruled Thursday that Miss Lamarr, 55, New York City, failed to prosecute the suit against the May Co. The action stemmed from her arrest Jan. 27, 1966 in one of the company's stores.

She was acquitted of the shoplifting charge after she testified she was distraught and ill and had not intended to leave without paying for the merchandise in her shopping bag.

Billie Sol Estes Loses First Bid For Parole

WASHINGTON (UP) — The federal parole board refused today to grant parole to Billie Sol Estes who has served nearly five years of a 15-year prison sentence for fraudulent credit dealings.

The Justice Deepartment said they rejected Estes' parole request without explanation.

Estes, onetime Texas millionare, is in Sandstone Federal Prison in Minnesota. He disappeared behind bars March 5, 1965, three years after his financial empire—much of it on paper—dissolved in debts.

The Parole board's chairman, George J. Reed, said the eight-member panel rejected parole for Estes "after fully reviewing the entire record."

A spokesman for the board said Estes would not become eligible again for review of his chances for parole until December of 1971.

The former West Texas financier from Pecos became eligible for parole Jan. 17.

He first was imprisoned at the federal penitentiary in Leavenworth, Kan. He was transferred to the Minnesota prison Dec. 15, 1966.

Estes, a church-going businessman, was a millionaire by age 30 and had been named by the U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce as one of its 10 Young Men of the Year.

He associated with famous people. In 1961, for instance, congressional investigators said, he sent crates of cantaloupes to then Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, President John F. Kennedy, Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough, D-Tex., and Jack Cox, GOP candidate for governor and senator in Texas.

Then his world collapsed.

Estes, then 37, was indicted April 5, 1962, by a federal grand jury in El Paso, Tex., on eight counts of mail fraud and transportation of fraudulently obtained securities in interstate commerce.

He was accused of swindling farmers to purchase nonexistent fertilizer tanks and equipment for anhydrous ammonia in return for giving him chattel mortgages on the fictitious property and of misrepresenting his financial worth to the federal government in connection with grain storage.

No Conclusion In Mrs. Sox Death

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Coroner Henry Turkel closed an investigation Thursday by saying he was unable to reach a conclusion in the death of the city health director's wife.

"It is inconclusive whether she died by suicide, accident or at the hands of another person," Dr. Turkel said of the death of Mrs. Ellis Sox, 57.

Mrs. Sox' body was found in her home Jan. 5 by her estranged husband. Police reported finding empty pill bottles but an autopsy disclosed only a therapeutic dose of tranquilizer in her bloodstream.

An examination showed she had suffered brain concussion, a broken neck, bruises and an injury to her nose. But she suffered from a middle ear disorder which had caused her to fall previously.

Homicide inspector Walter Kracke said Dr. Sox had volunteer to take a lie detector test and had "passed with flying colors."

"He is clear of any implication in the death of his wife," the inspector said of Dr. Sox.

Reinecke Calls For Local Action On Shorelines

I-J SPECIAL REPORT

SACRAMENTO — Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke called on local governments yesterday to stop "adverse construction and modifications" in the California coastal zone, saying only they have the power to do so.

Speaking before 50 delegates at a coastal shoreline preservation conference in Sacramento yesterday, he called for a moratorium to prevent indiscriminate filling and dredging, to preserve ocean and beach views, increase public access to the ocean's beaches, and ensure public beaches, tide pools and rocky cliffs remain accessible.

Reinecke warned that unless a state ocean area plan is completed, with the cooperation of local government, the state will face loss of beaches and shorelines through erosion, construction and contamination.

"This local planning must be coordinated with the state in order to ensure that state criteria is met and the statewide interest is upheld," he said.

$342,358 For Nixon Copter Pad

MIAMI (AP) — U.S. Army Engineers spent $342,358 to build a 150-foot square helicopter landing pad just off President Nixon's waterfront Key Biscayne compound, an official of the firm that built it said today.

Edmund Thornton, vice president and director of the Atlantic Foundation Co., gave the cost figure and said much of the expense was incurred because pilings had to be driven and because it had to be sturdy enough to support several helicopters at once.

It lies just off-shore from an existing two-acre heliport which is 1,000 feet from the Nixon property line. Thornton said he was told no property was available on shore for the Presidential pad.

At Nixon's home in San Clemente, Calif., a larger landing pad was built at a reported cost of $15,000.

White House officials told the Miami Herald the California pad is just concrete poured on a cleared area while the Key Biscayne pad is equipped with electric eyes, security devices to detect boats and underwater swimmers and facilities for tying up the presidential yacht.

They did not discuss reasons for putting it in the bay. Assistant Press Secretary Alan Woods said it must have been put there for security purposes.

Leading Military Writer Dies

MARLOW, England (AP) — Sir Basil Liddell Hart, a British army captain in World War I who had more influence on modern warfare than many generals, died at his home Thursday night. He was 74 and one of the world's leading military writers and theorists.

Gassed in the 1916 Battle of the Somme, invalided in 1924 and retired in 1927, Capt. Liddell Hart was convinced by his months in the trenches of the need for surprise and mobility in future wars. He was an early exponent of air power and armored forces and in his writing developed the "expanding torrent" tactic of attack.

The British army paid him little heed; the Germans took up his ideas and on them based their victorious blitzkrieg through France in 1940. Gen. Hans Guderian, who led that panzer charge, called him "the creator of the theory of the conduct of mechanized war."

Blaze Destroys A Fire House

ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP) — The building housing the Rochester Rural Fire Department was destroyed by fire early today.

Firemen who had been sleeping in the downstairs quarters escaped safely, as did occupants of upstairs apartments.

Two trucks and other fire-fighting equipment were destroyed. Officials said the flames knocked out electricity and the power-operated doors could not be opened.

Suspect Booked

Stanley Michael Kelly, 20, of North Hollywood, was arrested on suspicion of posssessing marijuana after a patrolman found his minibus parked on the shoulder of Highway 101 on Alto Hill last night, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The patrol said the bus was parked against a bank at 8:55 p.m. with three men in it amid a reek of marijuana wafted into the night air.

A search of the vehicle produced small quantities of marijuana in a matchbox, a cigarette pack and two glass vials.

Kelly was held in Marin County Jail in lieu of $1,250 bail to appear today in Marin Municipal Court. His companions were released.

Pleads Innocent To Income Tax Evasion

I-J SPECIAL REPORT

SAN FRANCISCO Marin County businessman John J. Cashin, 54, has pleaded innocent in U.S. District Court to charges of income tax evasion. A Feb 16 trail was set.

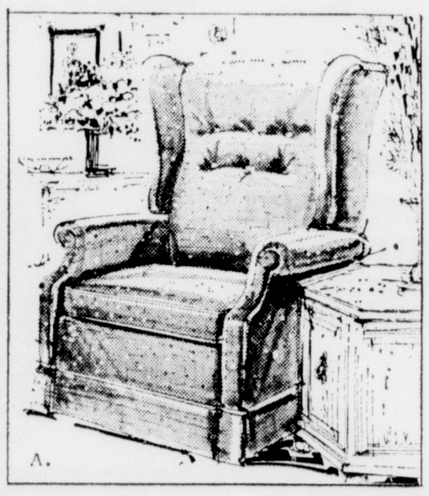

Cashin, of 105 Inez Place, Mill Valley was indicted Oct. 2 by the federal grand jury, charged with filing false income tax returns.

PICKING UP GOOD VIBRATIONS

Frank N. Werber (center) confers with his attorney Terrence Hallinan (right) and Tommy Smothers at a recess in the Werber marijuana trial. (See story Page 1). Earlier yesterday, Smothers had testified that he gets "good vibrations" and feels "very warm" whenever he embraces the 40-year-old Werber, former manager of the Kingston Trio. Smothers said Werber "simplifies my problems" but didn't know if Werber's spiritualism is due to marijuana. (Independent-Journal photo)

Easement Is Granted For A New Fence

Sonoma County Superior Court Judge Lincoln F. Mahan granted a backyard easement yesterday to the county water agency so that a nonconforming fence can be replaced, the Petaluma Basin Flood Advisory Committee heard yesterday.

The committee and water agency had replaced rear yard fences in connection with work on the East Washington Creek channel widening project and received access rights from 22 property owners with the exception of V. E. Sikes at 1424 Lauren Drive.

The committee began condemnation proceedings when neighbors complained that the Sikes fence was an eyesore because it was in disrepair and did not blend with the new fences provided by the agency.

With the court order, the agency plans to install the new fence within two weeks.

The committee also directed that a low fence be installed on the roadside of the channel for the safety of children and motorists.

Husband Booked In Wife's Death

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The body of San Francisco's 13th homicide victim of the year was found Thursday afternoon in the Potrero Hill area.

Gertrude Mitchell, 23, had apparently been dead for some hours when her body was found. She had been shot in the chest.

Her husband, Robert Mitchell, 24, was arrested and booked on suspicion of murder. Mitchell said he had had a disagreement with his wife Wednesday night, but had not shot her.

Highwayman Tactics In Marin City Holdup

Two teen-agers were robbed of a tool box, two wrist watches, and 50 stereo tapes yesterday by a young man who jumped into their van while it was stopped at a stop sign on Drake Avenue and Cole Drive in Marin City.

Brian Cullen, 19, of 86 Sugarloaf Drive, Tiburon, and David Nelson, 18, of 23 Platt Avenue, Mill Valley, told Marin City sheriff's deputies the youth, who appeared to be unarmed, ordered them to drive up behind a high-rise apartment house, then robbed them and ordered them to drive away.

He was assisted by a second youth, driving a yellow Chevrolet, who arrived at the apartment house.

One robber was described as black, five feet, eight inches tall, between 18 and 20 years old, weighing 160 pounds and wearing a black jacket and black sweatshirt. The second, also black, was described as 18 years old, six feet tall, 149 pounds and wearing a long, brown leather jacket and brown and tan striped pants.

INCOME TAX FACTS

By PETER J. WIKEL

Wikel

How soon can I get my refund?

No set time can be given.

The IRS gets them out just as soon as they possibly can, usually within five to six weeks.

The IRS asks that you do not write to them about your refund until at least 10 weeks from the filing date. I don't believe they can find it in the large mass of returns they get until after July 1st.

Interest is allowed on refunds from the date of overpayment to a date preceeding the date of the refund check by not more than 30 days, except that no interest is allowed on a refund made within 45 days of the day the tax was due or the several installments thereof, determined without regard to any extension of time for filing the return.

If you carefully fill in your return fully and completely and mail it early, you could have your refund in as little as three weeks. If you are unlucky, or do a sloppy job that requires auditing before the refund can be paid, it could take several months, or even several years in extreme cases.

NEW COMPUTER

The new computer controlled Automatic Data Processing system handles your federal income tax returns. From now on, information about you and your returns is permanently stored on magnetic tape. Questions about your reported income can be compared with data submitted by your employers and others. In addition, the computers will perform any checking and questioning functions formerly done by hand.

Here are a few hints which will help insure the smooth handling of your return by the new computer system:

Use the preaddressed form. If you cannot use this form, peel off the address label and attach it to your form. If you cannot do this, make sure to list your complete name, address and Social Security number.

CHECK BLOCKS

Check appropriate blocks concerning your exemptions.

Attach wage forms W-2 to the back of Form 1040 in the place indicated.

Write or print legibly, or type. Show your name and Social Security number exactly as it appears on Form 1040 on all schedules accompanying the return. If a joint return, use husband's number.

APPLICABLE ITEMS

All applicable items of income, tax computation and deductions should be filled in on the return form and schedules.

If you use attachments to supplement information on the official forms, put the totals on the proper lines on the tax form 1040 or schedule.

Be sure to sign your return. If you file a joint return, both husband and wife must sign, even if only one of you had income.

Market On Decline For Sixth Day

NEW YORK (UPI)—Blue chip and glamor issues fell sharply today; the sixth consecutive setback on the New York Stock Exchange. Trading was moderately active.

A turnover of around 12 million shares was about in line with Thursday's.

Rails, steels and motors generally traded narrowly and in both directions. Airlines and aircrafts also were mixed.

San Rafael, Petaluma Among Top Polluters

I-J Special Report

FREMONT—San Rafael Sanitation District and the City of Petaluma were named yesterday as prime targets in the state's tough new fight against water pollution.

The two were among the top 12 polluters in the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board's annual list of "most unwanted" polluters. (Another water board story, page 1)

Petaluma was ranked sixth on the board's priority list of targets for enforcement in 1970, and the San Rafael district ranked 11th.

Farther down the list were the Ross Valley Sanitary District (18th), City of Mill Valley (23rd), Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District (27th), Richardson Bay Sanitary District (28th), and Tiburon Sanitary District (65th).

The list did not include other dischargers against whom the board already has filed enforcement proceedings, including Donlan J. Arques, George Kappas and Miriam M. Tellis in Richardson Bay, Bolinas Community Public Utility District, San Quentin Prison, San Quentin Disposal Site, and the Mill Valley Air Force Station.

The priority list came in the board's report on the status of water quality control for the third quarter of 1969, and was released at the board's monthly meeting.

The report noted that 40 incidents of oil pollution had been reported or observed during the three-month period.

The priority ratings considered the relative volume of waste discharges and the relative importance of violations of the board's requirements, based on such factors as the proximity of the waste to recreational activity that uses the water.

First on the priority list was Mountain View Sanitary District.

The Water Quality Control Board Also:

The Regional Water Quality Control Board also:

BCDC — Urged the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development commission to require new or expanded port facilities, marinas and other water-related activities to provide dockside sewers to pump sewage from all vessels. The request would not affect existing marinas, of which there are about 100 with 11,000 berths. Some 96,000 vessels are in the Bay Area, many of them with toilets that discharge raw waste into the bay.

SAN FRANCISCO — Ordered the City of San Francisco to file by March 30 a schedule to meet board requirements to treat sewage during rain, when rainfall more than .02 of an inch per hour overwhelms treatment plants and dumps raw sewage in the bay.

ELECTION — Reelected Weber to a second one-year term as board chairman.

RIVER — Received a staff report that owners of Gilardi's Resort on the Petaluma River have hired an engineer to design sewage facilities. The resort has been dumping raw sewage in the river for years.

BOLINAS — Commended the Bolinas Community Public Utility District for approving a joint powers agreement with the Stinson Beach County Water District to build a joint sewage facility, and ordered the Bolinas district to report by March 1 a firm schedule on how long it will need to build the facility.

Kiddies Offered Help On Taxes

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Little kids deserve relief from taxation of their orange, lemon, grape and other fruit popsicles in the opinion of the legislature's legal adviser.

As long as the ice pops contain any real fruit juice flavoring they should not be subject to the state sales tax, says Legislative Counsel George Murphy.

If they're just flavored with sugar water or artificial fruit juice, the sales tax should apply, however. The state Board of Equalization has been ordering a tax paid on fruit popsicles if they contain less than 30 per cent real fruit juice.

The going price for ice popsicles is 10 cents apiece or 39 cents for a box of six. There's a two-cent sales tax on a box.

Demo 'Puts Heat' On College Cash

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Edmund G. Brown Jr., the 31-year-old son of the former Democratic governor, Thursday said the legislature should approve additional support funds for junior colleges.

Brown, a Los Angeles Junior College Board of Trustees member, told newsmen he had met with several lawmakers "to put a little heat" on them for additional financing because the junior colleges are "the backbone" of California higher education.

Asked if he were going to run for secretary of state, Brown replied: "I'm definitely looking at that office."

Brown said he would decide in about a month whether to seek statewide office.

Control Of Funds Back To Students

BERKELEY (AP) — Control of about $700,000 in Associated Student funds has been returned to the student senate at the University of California by Berkeley Chancellor Roger W. Heyns.

The chancellor took away control of the funds two years ago after a disputed student election.

An agreement Heyns signed Thursday gives the 20-man senate power to collect and allocate funds. Students also will be able to appoint an executive director to administer the Student Union, subject to Heyns' veto. Previously the executive director was appointed by the administration.

Heyns called the agreement "a significant step twoard reestablishing productive and mutually satisfying problem - solving relationships between student government and the administration of this campus."

Embassey Damaged

FUKUOKA, Japan (UPI)—Molotov cocktails smashed windows in the U. S. consulate before dawn Thursday, police said. Damage was slight. Police said the persons who threw the firebombs escaped.

ART REVIEW

Masters Of Plastic Media

BY LAURA DEVENDORF

SAN FRANCISCO—Designed to demonstrate the contemporary use of plastics and other new materials, the San Francisco Museum's scheduling of three one-man shows by sculptors Jerry Ballaine, Fletcher Benton and Sam Richardson is definitely to the point. All have mastered and developed their materials to such a personal degree that they might have been apprenticing in them for decades.

Ballaine's scheme is vacuum forming plastic into bloated squares, dented at midsection, sprayed with opalescent paint and hung, relief fashion, from the walls.

MYSTERY BLADDERS

Wisely, his is the first work you see. As you enter, the gallery is in effect, padded with pastel pillows, with dozens of them growing from the walls, much the way those strange bladder-like bubbles rise mysteriously from wet beach sand. And they are just as fragile. After seeing the other sculpture, Ballaine's work seen again on the way out seems to have diminished considerably.

But then, what wouldn't after the mesmerizing experience of Benton's sculptures? In each of them, panels, leaning lines or discs of transparent colored plastic glide slowly back and forth, forming and reforming hard edge designs within a core of beautiful machined-metal geometric shapes.

These fluctuating colors are pure, deep and elusive, contrasting with the circles, squares, parallelograms and other metal forms housing them—forms which have such strength and substance.

LIGHT AND MOTION

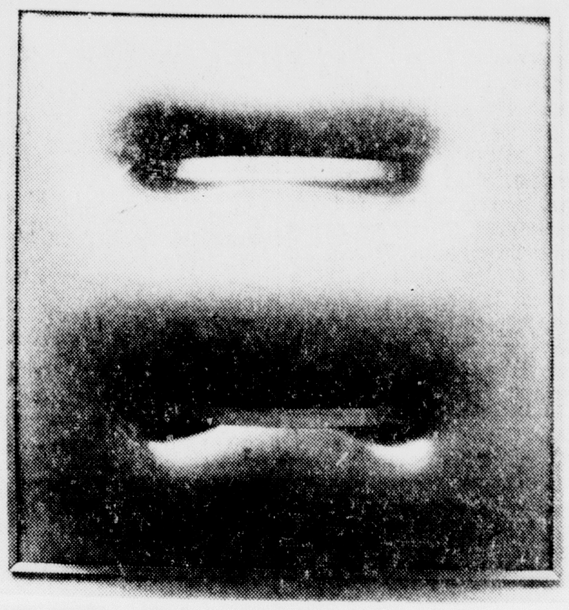

Benton does other things with light and motion in a series of metal-enclosed, lighted lenses which change their gridlike patterns. And while it may seem obvious to say that all his work is art happening—that it is creation taking place in the moment during which you watch it—it is so impressively done that to state it is almost reflex.

Just as mobility is much of Benton's expression, so the stability and substance of earth is solidly in Richardson's. Thick, chalky columns, resembling earth core samples become his winter mountain landscapes.

MINIMAL STATEMENT

They may be as minimal as "About a mile across that snow plain there's a deep crevass," in which a long thin stretch of slowly countoured white is broken only once as it reaches across the gallery. Or it may be more involved, rivered or lake-strewn with clear or frosted blue plastic. Or it may present one area seen on several days, its sections hovered over by a thick suspended block of cloud or varying from storm dark to frost depending on time and the weather.

It's an unusual and personal view of nature which is told convincingly through Richardson's materials—just as abstract ideas are made clear through materials chosen by Benton and Ballaine. The three exhibits continue at the museum, McAllister and Van Ness through Feb. 15.

AIR TIGHT — Part of a series of vacuum formed plastic reliefs, this bulging panel by Jerry Ballaine is from the current exhibit of sculpture in the new media at the San Francisco Museum of Art. (San Francisco Museum photo)

MOTION PICTURE GUIDE

The Marin Motion Picture and Television Council provides these ratings of movies now being shown in Marin County. The council's findings are from the California and National Parent-Teacher Association magazines and from Parents' Magazine, unless otherwise noted. More complete reviews may be obtained by calling the San Rafael Libray. FAMILY

"Funny Girl"—Partly fictionalized biography details Fanny Brice's rise to fame. Big musical is lavishly mounted.

"Italian Job"—A wildly satirical comedy about a gang of thieves who hijack a shipment of gold with an assist from a computer programed to cause a gigantic traffic jam. Wild, imaginative nonsense, with stunt driving to congeal the blood. Fun.

"Mysteries of the Deep"—Excellent Disney short that shows a variety of fantastic and beautiful creatures in the sea.

"Oliver"—A musical spectacular with superb settings and acting. Vividness of some of the violence of story may be frightening to very young children.

"This is My Alaska"—For the sportsman and outdoorsman a documentary type film produced by a master Alaskan guide. Via plane visit the huge state during all the seasons and much educational and informative material is revealed to all. (Box-office Magazine)

"2001: Space Odyssey"—A long epic space adventure that is a fantastic and overwhelming experience. The ending is subject to any interpretation the viewer may put on it.

ADULTS AND TEENS

"Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid"—True story of two bandits told in farcical tone but documentary in presentation. Film does not deny the violence attendant on their lives and deaths.

"Cactus Flower"—Middle-aged playboy dentist drafts his nurse to masquerade as his estranged wife and rescue him from a complicated situation with his current mistress.

"Down Hill Racer"—A brilliant study of the development of a ski champion. Action sequences are complimented by an equally absorbing story about the dynamics of sports competition.

"The Good Guys and Bad Guys"—Comedy western about a small-town aging marshal challenged by progress and politics. The aging, paunchy outlaw also has his problems. Acting is more than capable and the chase of a train by assorted automobiles is hilarious.

"Guns of the Magnificent Seven"—American gunfighters assist Mexican peasants by rescuing their leader from military prison and the revolt against savage tyranny in late 19th Century.

"Jenny"—An honest, quiet little film that doesn't preach, yet its social and moral ramifications are clear. It depicts a human encounter and subsequent growth in maturity, responsibility and love. (Catholic Film Newsletter)

"On Her Majesty's Secret Service"—Winter scenery in Swiss Alps and skiers performing amazing feats are assets to this James Bond film. Violence and sex make it unsuitable for children.

"Planet of the Apes"—Provocative mixture of comedy, satire and melodramatic but cynical science fiction about our astronauts who crash land on a desolate planet in an era 2,000 years hence.

ADULTS ONLY

"Easy Rider"—Far-out cross country trip of two hippy motorcyclists creates a vision of America that is by turn beautiful and horrifying. Poetically photographed but has overlong LSD sequence.

"John and Mary"—In Manhattan, two very different young people meet, mate and spend the next day getting acquainted. Dialogue is intelligent and witty, direction tasteful. The always present nude scene is prominent.

"Last of Mobile Hot Shots"—Based on Tennessee Williams play, "The Seven Descents of Myrtle" set in the deep south following the Civil War.

"Midnight Cowboy"—Off-beat, hardhitting story of a male prostitute and a crippled hustler who meet in New York. Sordidness is tempered by skill and compassion, told in an uncompromising way.

Board May Assist Prison Inmates

A plan to help Mexican-American inmates at San Quentin Prison will be considered when the Marin County Board of Education meets at 8 p.m. Monday at the Manzanita children's center and preschool in Marin City.

The board is to consider a resolution to submit Project EMPLEO for state financing. EMPLEO is a group of Mexican-American inmates, the letters in Spanish standing for "The Mexican, prepared, ready, educated and organized." The program is to provide job training and academic classes to prepare the inmates for their release from prison.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Veal Specialties Replacing Germanic Foods At Gregory's

Visitors to Gregory's Restaurant on Paradise Drive, Corte Madera these days will find most of the former decor still intact but also something new in the scenery.

Three faces are different - those of John Napoli and Angelo Camilleri behind the bar and Bernard Epstein in the kitchen (if you get that far). Bernard is very devoted to his cuisine and has had himself penned away from public contact so he can concentrate on his sautes and recipes. But he will come out of his retreat to greet old friends when he has the opportunity.

He is too much his own man to have let the menu stay as it was. This is only right, for a chef is at his best doing his own "thing," preparing the dishes he knows and values most highly.

Some former patrons of Gregory's may decry the absence of German enchiladas wiener schnitzel, stuffed pork chops and steak jungfrauenart featured when Gregory and Mary Alyce Seubert owned the restaurant, but Bernard's talents are in the field of volaille, veau and veloute. Like some European chefs he is a master of the veal dish and this is prepared in many Continental styles.

And when it comes to dessert, order his zabaione. It looks innocent enough on top but packs a wallop at the bottom.

THE CITADEL is a new venture of Irving (Whitey) Litchfield, who has gone into extensive remodeling and redocorating at his Francisco Boulevard nightclub property on Francisco Boulevard, San Ra-

This will be a thing apart fro m Bermuda Palms and envisions booking big name bands, entertainers, musicals and special functions of general interest to both adults and young people. There is no regular schedule at the present time, which leaves the spacious clubrooms open for the best entertainment that comes along, as well as for large weddings, political affairs and other events.

Meanwhile Country Boy Restaurant at Bermuda Palms has been closed. Regular food service is limited to hot dogs, sandwiches and snacks.

A "BRIDAL OPEN HOUSE" will be held in the bay Room at Holiday Inn, Terra Linda on Valentine's Day, Feb. 14, from 1 to 3 p.m.

Featured will be fashions, flowers, photos and the things most brides are interested in for their wedding days. Holiday Inn's Wedding Guide Book will be given out and a "Honeymoon Suite" door prize will be awarded. There will be music and refreshments.

If you don't win the honeymoor suite, Holiday's new addtion of 119 rooms should be ready and open just about June 1.

ETHEL BARRIE'S annual celebration at Lin Fa Gardens will take place a week from Thursday night, Feb. 12. It is coincidental that this is also Lincoln's Birthday, which is entirely unrelated to the festivities planned. The real reason is that it's Ethel's sixth anniversary at Northgate.

The entertainment will be Polynesian, with the stage set up between the two dining rooms as in the past. Look for excellent performances at 8:30 and again at 10 p.m.

There will be a special menu of three American and two Chinese dinners. And Gary Schneider, who calls himself "the biggest ham in all of Marin County," will play the organ and entertain in the Mai Tai Room.

YOU MAY FIND occasionally tha the Normandie on the San Rafael Miracle Mile does not always serve on Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights the Marseilles bouillabaise previously recommended in this column. The answer is simple and keeps my faith in chef and co-owner Andre Marquer. During stormy weather the fish he wants is not always up to top quality and he simply refuses to use it. But you will always find other good dinners. During February, for example, there are two special complete dinners each night (one a "specialty of the house") with soup, salad, a half-bottle of Cabernet Sauvignon for two, dessert and beverage.

You may not realize that the Normandie is also open for lunches through the week (except Tuesdays). hTere is a complete lunch at $2.75 and a la carte from $1.85.

BERNARD'S EXECUTIVE LOUNGE chef Wally Price now prepares 25 different complete dinners under $4 on his new menu.

For a different experience in dining out (or for lunch) take the elevator up to the fifth floor in the Renold C. Johnson Building at Fourth and C Streets, San Rafael. It's warm and friendly.

THESE ARE THE DAYS of Bar Mitzvah parties, bridge parties and other group affairs for Bill and Adolph's Qest End Villa, which expects to keep both of its party rooms busy clear through spring. And Bill Bisson is already starting his spring decorating program for the dining room.

Quite a bit of West End's food business is take-out - pates, hors d'oeuvres, cannelloni and stuffed crepes. Both group and individual orders are accepted. Bill is an old hand at preparing these and often gets to work at 5:30 a.m. to make sure they are ready.

THE PEACOCK RESTAURANT in Novato is being sold by Walt and Joe Soon Del Rose to Patrick Mah of San Francisco, an experienced restaruanteur. The name Peacock will be retained and for the time being there will no changes in the menu.

REDECORATING AND REFURBISHING are going on at Le Vivor in Sausalito as usual at this time of the year. For a biref period, dinners are being served only on Thursdays, Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays.

Le Vivoir is now extending its special services to wedding receptions and banquets. Arrangements can be made by calling the restaurrant and asking for Leo Cantayre (who has been here since November) or Albert Lucas.

PIER 15 on Harbor Street, San Rafael can serve parties of 50 to 70 on its enclosed deck over the San Rafael Canal.

THE NEW ZIM'S RESTAURANT in the Kent Woodlands Shopping Center is now scheduled to open in the early spring. It will be open seven days a week from 6:30 a.m. to 1 a.m. serving breakfast, lunch and dinner from a coffee shop-style menu. There will be booth and table service, with limited counter seating. Banquet and meeting facilities will also be available.

AFTER MOST OF JUANITA'S burned down at El Verano in the Valley of the Moon last March, Juanita Musson moved part of her food operation to the old Fetters Springs Hotel. This is now her entire base of operations and it appears unlikely that she will return to El Verano.

There are 10 hotel rooms at Fetters Springs and later Juanita plans to have some of the cabins available for occupancy.

Food service is still on the sumptious side. Breadkfast is served from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. weekdays and to 3 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays. It's well worth the $2.25, even if you have to wait for Juanita to finish an argument with someone. Lunches from 11 a.m. are $1.75 up to 5 p.m. and $2.75 after that. Prime rib dinners are $6.50, steak dinners $5.50 and chopped sirloin $3.

FREDIANI'S INN at Sebastopol, which has been closed for vacation, will reopen next Wednesday. Vacation time for the Hilltopper in Santa Rosa ends this weekend and that restaurant will reopen Monday.

Marin Dining And Wining

France, Netherlands Meet On An Island

PHILISBURG, St. Martin, West Indies (UPI)—France and the Netherlands meet on a 37-square-mile island in the eastern Caribbean about 150 miles east of Puerto Rico.

It's the island of St. Martin (or Sint Maarten, if you prefer), which has two languages, two currencies and two citizenships. Twenty-one square miles belong to the French. The rest of the island is Dutch-owned. Despite these differences, there is no border as such between both sectors and everybody wanders back and forth at will.

B. A. Sill Elected By Crusade Trustees

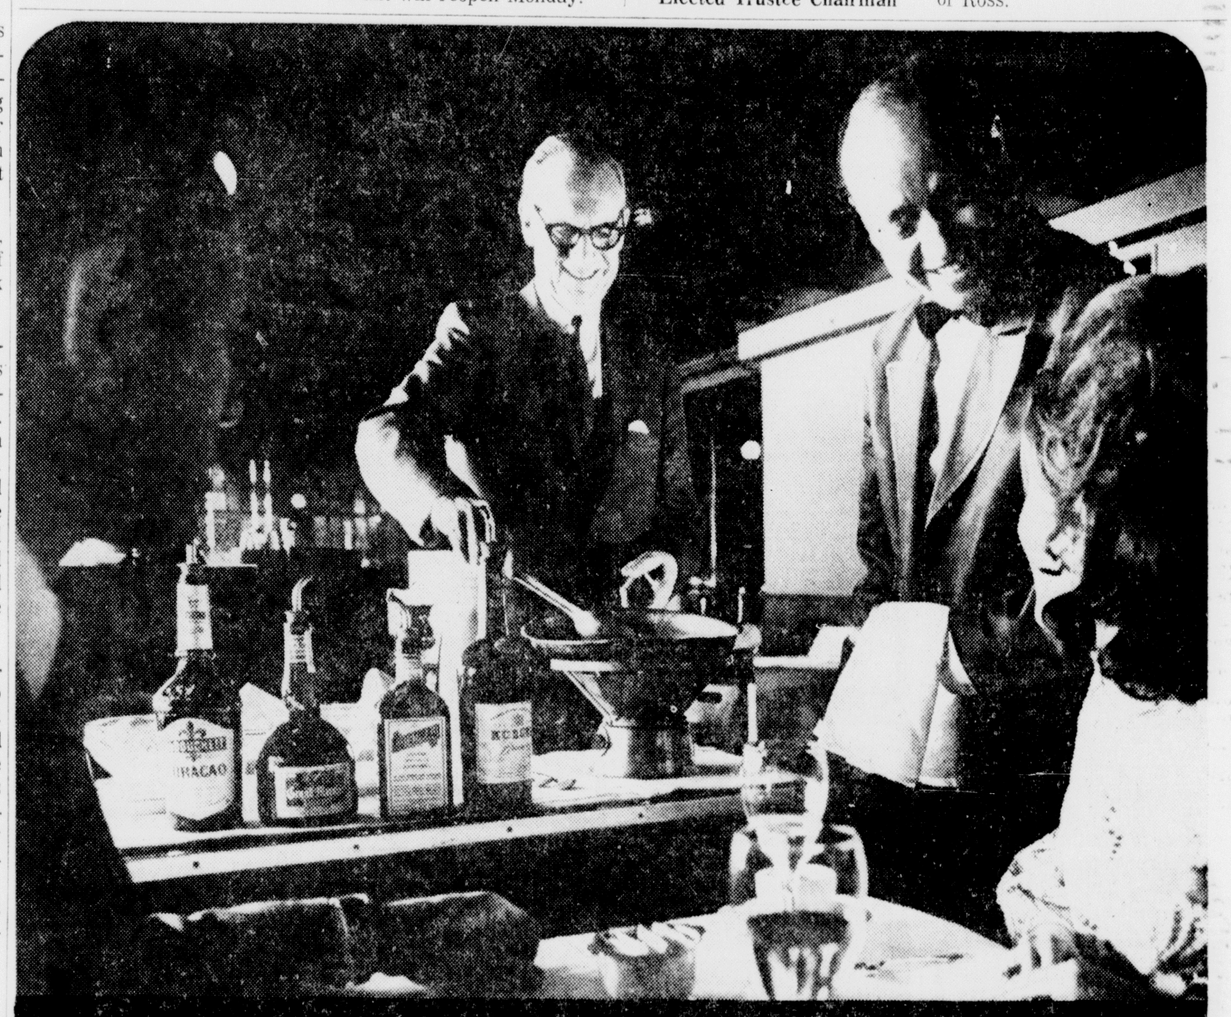

BEVERLEY A. SILL
Elected Trustee Chairman

Beverley A. Sill of Corte Madera has been elected chairman of the Marin United Bay Area Crusade trustees and vice-president of the five-county crusade for 1970.

Sill, assistant vice-president and manager of Crocker Citizens National Bank in Corte Madera Shopping Center, headed the Marin communities division for the 1969 crusade campaign.

Edwin Johnson of San Rafael, vice-president and manager of Wells Fargo Bank there, has been elected vice-chairman.

TEARS AND CANDLESTICKS

Methodist Actors Serving the Church (MASC), an interdenominational tour group, will present "Tears and Candlesticks" at 11 a.m. Sunday at the Methodist Church of Mill Valley, Camino Alto and Sycamore Avenue. The play concerns a boy and girl who meet in a bomb-ravaged church to determine how to build a new world for themselves. In the cast (from left) are Dave Laone, Debbie Laone and John Taylor. Jo Taylor of Sacramento is director.

Dollar Day Bargains Bringing In Shoppers

Dollar Day bargains and better weather are luring a host of shoppers to San Rafael stores merchants report.

Sales were reported good at several stores yesterday and others expected a good showing in the special sale which lasts through tommorow night.

"This year is going to be a good one," noted Robert B. Bales, assistant manager at PayLess Drug Store, 866 Fourth Street. "Each day gets better and the store should be jammed by tommorrow," he added.

Brisk sales at J. C. Penny Co. were attributed to Dollar Days and the weather, according to manager Charles W. Try, who added business had fallen off badly during last week's storms.

More people were downtown and business is matching previous Dollar Day sales at Schwartz men's wear store, reported vice-president Aaron Schwartz. Last week's stormy weather had not affected his business, he added.

Amazement at the number of men who turned out yesterday to buy shoes at Chapmans Shoes was expressed by owner Irving D. Chapman, adding that men usually shop on Saturdays.

"The store is full of people," and response to the sale has been excellent, he said.

Dollar items at Heller's Baby News Center at 514 Fourth Street were very popular owner Herbert C. Heller reported. Sals were heavy in the morning, he said.

Charles C. Bell, owner of Bell's Interiors at 1212 Fourth Street, said he expected business to pick up tonight and tomorrow.

At Lachman Brothers at 1005 Fourth Street, manager George T. Lawrence said that while general business conditions seem to be keeping persons from buying unless they really have to, he, too, expected a pick up in sales by the end of Dollar Days.

New Public Courses Begin Monday Night

New public courses by Golden Gate College and San Francisco State College will be held at Hamilton Air Force Base Education Center starting Monday, according to base officials.

College algebra will be taught Tuesdays and Thursdays; introductory accounting, Mondays and Wednesdays; data processing, Tuesdays and Thursdays, and human relations, Wednesdays and Fridays, taught by Golden Gate College and American foreign policy, Mondays and Wednesdays by San Francisco State College. All classes will run from 6:30 to 9 p.m.

More than 3.5 million acres of public lands are open to hunting in New York State.

GOP Trustees To Dole Out Campaign Coin; Unruh Hit

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A special trusteeship of Republican officials will dispense the $100,000 raised by Assembly Speaker Robert T. Monagan last week to aid GOP legislative candidates.

They eventually will announce how the money is spent, party officials said.

These precautions are being taken to avoid any tharge that Monagan, R-Tracy, is trying to "buy power" through use of the funds, the officials added.

Former Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, D-Inglewood, often was criticized by his opponents for keeping secret the way he spent funds he raised on behalf of legislative candidates.

"This will be handled by a certified public accountant," said Dennis Carpenter of Newport Beach, the Republican state chairman.

"This is the way the speaker wanted to handle it, to have it extraneous from himself."

"He didn't want to be in the posture of Unruh . . . that he controlled the money and put it where he wanted to to buy friends for himself."

A Monagan assistant said he expected the speaker to make some recommendations as to incumbents to be helped.

Calf-Covering Hem From Marc Bohan

By JOAN DEPPA

PARIS (UPI)—Christian Dior designer Marc Bohan came out with a uniform calf-covering hemline today.

The look was not one which will prompt many women to clean out their closets and fill it with new Dior-designed or inspired clothes.

The long droopy silk dresses, printed in polka dots, were the sort of clothes women who dress to impress other women will love. But most of the men in the audience looked bored.

The audience reaction to one after another of the outfits with hemlines hanging around the calf-bottom was tepid. Almost no applause was heard for the daytime clothes —with the exception of one trouser suit — and there was little, by comparison with recent seasons, for the evening clothes.

Most of the daytime clothes were in all the brown shades from ivory through cinnamon, havana, khaki, fawn and copper to dark brown. It was relieved from time to time by a medium blue which Bohan calls boat-blue and by mauve.

The designer was absolutely dotty for polka dots —as are several other Paris houses. Bohan uses a navy and white polka dot shirt under a long-skirted navy suit and waist-length jacket, printed in giant polka dots which in turn are printed with tiny polka dots.

Another favorite fabric features pale blue polka dots on boat-blue silk, made into one of his typical long, full sleeved shirtdresses with long skirt pleated through the hips and released to sway softly to the long hemline.

The models wore dark stockings, low shoes and almost chignon was braided and no jewelry. Their hair was another big braid wrapped cropped short or worn in a tight round the head to frame the chignon by day. At night the face.

JEAN PATOU'S spring and summer collection of high fashion from Paris includes this charming white organza wedding gown, which the designer has titled, "Oui." (UPI Cablephoto)

THE SUBURBAN SCENE

League Models From Marin

BY MOLLY MARIN

Among the models for the Junior League fashion show on Feb. 26 will be five sustaining members from Marin. Modeling from Ross will be Mrs. Clarence O. Amonette Jr. and James C. Eschen, from San Rafael is Mrs. John A. Busterud, and from the Tiburon Peninsula Mrs. Eugene S. Kilgore Jr. of Tiburon and Mrs. Christopher Rivers Jr. of Belvedere will also model.

Ashley Cleveland, daughter of Mrs. Joseph E. Sheeks of Belvedere, will be a teen-age mannequin for the benefit shows.

The fashion show will be presented both at a luncheon and a dinner dance, both to be held at the Fairmont Hotel. Sponsor tables have been reserved by Messrs. and Mmmes. Dewey Donnell of Sonoma, Kirk Frederick of San Rafael, James Lloyd of Mill Valley and Richard Otter and Elton B. Sherwin of Belvedere for the dinner and Mrs. George Jewett of Ross for the luncheon.

THE 16TH wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Al Martinez of Cotati was celebrated by going out to dinner Saturday and by eneraining guess at a turkey dinner in their home Sunday when Mr. Marinez' birthday was also observed.

Joining in the festivities were Messrs. and Mmes. Arnold Ross, Robert Kelly and Elmer Martinez of Petaluma; Vic Amerio of Mountain View and Ray Martinez of Sebastopol.

A RECEPTION and cast party will follow each of the performances of "Murder in the Cathedral" to be presented at St. Stephens Church, Belvedere at 8 p.m. tomorrow and Sunday.

Chairman of the after-the-theater parties, which will be given at Whitaker Hall adjacent to the church, is Mrs. John Mueller of Tiburon. Mrs. Mueller will return from a trip to Alaska just in time to take care of he hostess duties.

Mr. and Mrs. Dickerson McAfee are giving a dinner party before the Saturday performance of the T.S. Eliot play, which the Theater of Man will present. Mrs. McAfee's mother, Mrs. Samuel A. Marin, visiting from Schenectady, N.Y., will be among the guests, as will Miss Mary Sacio of Lima, Peru, the Eugene Millers of Mill Valley and James Bradley of San Mateo. Leslie Miller of Mill Valley will accompany the McAfee's daughter, Margaret.

Also entertaining at dinner tomorrow are Mr. and Mrs. John Barnes of Belvedere. Georgia Barnes is chairman of the event, sponsored by the church. Guests will be Messrs. and Mmes. George Born and Jack van der Ploueg of Belvedere, Mrs. Nancy Frank of Tiburon and Bruce Jewell of Mill Valley.

The Edwin Weeds have reserved a large block of tickets for the tomorrow's performance. Newcomers to Marin, Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Allen of San Rafael, will be honored at a small dinner party before the Sunday evening show by the Kenneth Frosts of Belvedere. The Allens are former residents of Bloomington, Ind.

Guests were Mmes. Severa Wilford, Al Hillendah, Norton Keyt, Robert Nelson and Alvin Arndt. Also present were Mmes. Isabell Azavedo, Anne McGorth, Adrian Hildebrand, Elsie Bailey ane Miss Kim Nelson.

MR. AND MRS. Edward R. Schulman of Novato have returned from a 25-day-trip on the Oriana, where they were dance directors aboard ship. The tour began in San Francisco, going through the Panama Canal and visiting the various Caribbean Islands. The Schulmans felt very fortunate in not being on the sister ship, the Oransay, which was quarantined for typhoid and is being held at Vancouver, B.C.

WENDY CAGWIN, the four-month-old daughter of Mr and Mrs. George Cagwin of Mill Valley, was christened Jan. 11 at the Episcopal Church of Our Saviour in Mill Valley. A reception at the Cagwins' home followed the ceremony.

The baby is the sister of Tania, who is three years old, and her grandmothers are Mmes. Helvetia Walker of Mill Valley and Cecile Davies, who is visiting the Cagwins from Sussex, England.

A GALA BIRTHDAY celebration was given Jan. 18 on her 90th birthday for Mrs. B. E. King of San Rafael. A buffet luncheon was served by her children and grandchildren at the Caroline S. Livermore Room at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross.

Attending were Mrs. King's daughter, Mrs. E. B. Gearhart of San Rafael and her husband, and her sons, Edward C. King of Antioch, Clarence King of El Cerrito, Cyrus King of Novato and Clyde King of San Gabriel, and their wives

Mrs. King's 10 grandchildren and 18 great grandchildren also were on hand, as well as nieces and nephews. Her 87 year old brother, William E. Leedy of Sacramento, was a special guest.

Dealer Gets Excited About Handmade Kitchen Utensils

By JEANNE LESEM

NEW YORK (UPI) — Gertrude Weber, an antiques dealer, gets as excited about 17th and 18th century handmade kitchen utensils as most other women do about diamonds and furs.

Her enthusiasm is shared by museums and house restoration project managers as well as individual collectors. Among the museums and restorations she's helped outfit are Schenck House of the Brooklyn Museum, the Torrington, Conn., Museum, George Washington's Headquarters, Rockingham, N.J. and a French consul's kitchen for the Colonial Dames of Texas.

In an interview, Mrs. Weber suggested that the relatively neglected field of kitchen antiques has come full circle in recent years.

When she entered her first show in the early 1960s, handmade kitchen and hearth utensils were so inexpensive that the average housewife could afford them instead of buying new ones.

Up to three years ago, she said, you still could find copper and brass implements for kitchen and hearth. But today's distribution is so wide and the demand so great that the supply has dwindled and prices have risen.

Complexity of design and use don't necessarily influence the value of such utensils.

"You won't believe it, but one hard to find, rare and expensive item is a set of iron skewers with its own hanger. The last I saw had at least half a dozen skewers, and Sturbridge (a village restoration in Massachusetts) has a copy for $350.

"Very important bronze cauldrons may sell for as much as $1,000. I saw one that was patched and plugged--it was a real bargain at $285."

"Most women want a kettle," Mrs. Weber said. "And you can still buy a nice one for $35-$45.

"People want a range of things, but they usually start with a kettle, then add something to put logs in."

She added that collectors may use a cauldron originally a cooking pot, as a log holder and a peat bucket as a jardiniere.

The vivacious Mrs. Weber said she first became interested in kitchen and hearth antiques while collecting early American recipes when she and her husband, Palmer, went on house tours in Virginia, his home state.

Weber, an investment banker, was a college professor at that time and his wife planned to become a teacher.

Antique utensils changed her plans. She began buying them and reselling to gourmet friends to help finance more trips. Soon she was buying so many that she needed shipping crates. Rather than buy disposable ones, she branched into cottage furniture, including English and American chests large enough for packing boxes.

Today, furniture is the mainstay of her Kitchen and Hearth Antiques shop in the Long Island Historical Society Building in Brooklyn, because the supply of utensils no longer is large enough to support a business.

Mrs. Weber said her own interest is not in antiques as such,

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Father Has Better Relationship With Television Set Than His Son

DEAR HELEN:

We read and hear discussions on the bad effects of television on children. What about the effects on the family as a whole?

An example: I'll call this young man Tom. College graduate, responsible position, considered intelligent. He has a lovely, devoted wife who runs a nice home. College graduate also, good hostess, wonderful mother.

Then there is Jimmy. Two and one-half, bright and handsome. Tom leaves home while Jimmy is still sleeping. It is 6 p.m. Jimmy hears Tom at the door and greets his Daddy with joy and outstretched arms. He is picked up and kissed. Then dinner is served. Daddy is in a hurry. Why? Television is waiting.

The intelligent father switches on the monster and suddenly little Jimmy is in the way. "Go play with your toys." This after a day of waiting for Daddy.

Commercial time. Daddy to Jimmy, "What did you do all day?" The poor child is so taken by surprise to be spoken to while the television is on, he can't answer fast enough. He loses his big chance to communicate with Dad. Commercial over. Tom is again in TV-land. This is the young man who wants his son to grow up loving and respecting him. Can a boy relate to a father who obviously has a better relationship with his television set? —GRANDMA

DEAR GRANDMA:

I hope many men will read your good letter and ask themselves that question. Watching television won't hurt a child nearly so much as constantly playing second fiddle to it. H.

DEAR HELEN:

My uncle owns a vineyard. This last summer I decided to make wine, but I learned that if you make over a certain amount, you have to have a permit, so I went down to get one, and discovered that unless I am "the head of a household" (ie. married) I can't be a little ol' winemaker.

Now isn't it crazy that in a state where unmarried persons can get a prescription for the Pill, you must be married to make wine? —DEN

DEAR DEN:

Like: "Make love, not wine," or something . . .

Perhaps the legislators figure that keeping a bachelor off home made vino keeps him out of trouble . . . and the Pill does likewise for a bachelor girl. —H.

DEAR HELEN:

Well, we had the Silent Fifties, the Sexy and Sizzling Sixties, so now what will we call the Seventies? —NORMAN

DEAR NORMAN:

Let's hope they'll earn the title Sensible Seventies and, maybe, just maybe they will. Let's hope they'll solve all those nasty problems the Noisy Sixties uncovered. If they don't, we'll be calling the next decade The Awful Eighties. —H.

DEAR HELEN:

I always thought that children brought a husband and wife closer, but my marriage is ready to fall apart mainly because the children and their father side against me.

He plans their parties, entertains them, and he's the love of their lives while I'm in the background with the drudgery. I'm only good for housecleaning. I get no love, comfort, or understanding from any of them.

He won't talk to me or take me out. I fear the mental ward will have another patient if he doesn't change his ways.—HELP

DEAR HELP:

I think your ways need changing too, and this can be accomplished best with the help of a close-in counselor. Call the Family Service Agency in your town.—H.

Holly Hood Says Vows With Thomas D. Quilici

Holly Elizabeth Hood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William N. Hood of San Rafael, became the bride of Thomas DeLong Quilici Jan. 21 at St. Sylvester's Church in San Rafael.

Gail Davis of San Rafael was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were the bride's cousins Kathryn and Eleanor Mahood of San Anselmo and her sister, Alison Hood.

Best man was Craig Parrott of San Rafael, and guests were ushered to their seats by the bridegroom's brother Ronald H. Quilici of Fairfield, the bride's cousin Paul Mahood of San Anselmo and William Spita of Corte Madera.

A reception at the San Anselmo home of the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Mahood, followed the ceremony.

Holly and Thomas were both graduated from San Rafael High School and both attended College of Marin.

Prior to her marriage, Holly was employed by American Express in San Francisco. Her grandmother is Mrs. Kay Pierson of San Anselmo.

William is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Quilici of San Rafael. He is in the Air Force, stationed near Seville, Spain, where the couple will live following a wedding trip to Mendocino. Gregory Quilici of San Rafael is also the bridegroom's brother. His grandparents are Mrs. Olinto Guilici of Burlingame and Mrs. George Gerhard of Napa.

Steven M. Knechtle To Wed Pamla L. Pascual June 27

Mr. and Mrs. Armand A. Pascual of Mill Valley have announced the engagement of their daughter Pamela Louise to Steven Martin Knechtle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Knechtle, also of Mill Valley.

Both are graduates of Tamalpais High School.

Pamela is the sister of Mrs. Andrew H. Merkling of Fairfax and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Lelbach and James Pascual, all of San Francisco. She attends Sonoma State College and is employed by Toy World in Corte Madera.

The future bridegroom is the brother of Dona and George Knechtle. His grandmother is Mrs. Steven Stulir of San Anselmo. Steven attends College of Marin and is employed by Mike's Bicycle Center in San Rafael.

A June 27 wedding is planned by the couple.

Cuir Sauvage

Simulated grain leathers with an antique or "cuir sauvage" finish look lige genuine leather and are far less costly, the National Institute of Drycleaning says.

Child's Portion

Scale servings to the size of the small child. It is better to offer small ones and let a child ask for second heldpings. Too-large servings can be the beginning of overeating or other problems.

Donna Becker Wed To James Ponzio

Donna Carol Becker of Ross became Mrs. James T. Ponzio Jan. 18 in a brief ceremony conducted at the Lagunitas Country Club in Ross by Marin County Superior Court Judge E. Warren McGuire.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jules Becker of Ross, Donna chose her sister, Betsy, as one of two bridesmaids. Laura Bender of Phoenix, was maid of honor, and Patty McDonald of Piedmont, was the other bridesmaid.

James, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ponzio of Hopland, had Bernard Pietrosilli of Corte Madera as best man, and his brother, Richard, of Mill Valley, and Robert Beckner of San Francisco were ushers.

Donna, a graduate of Redwood High School, is now a junior at the University of California, after spending her first two years of college at UC Santa Barbara.

James is in his final year at the University of San Francisco Law School after being graduated from Ukiah High School and USF. He is vice president of the Law School student body, and is a law school classmate of the bride's brother, Glenn. Mr. and Mrs. Carlo Ponzio of San Francisco are his grandparents.

After a brief wedding trip to Mendocino County, the couple are living in San Francisco.

Fire Hazards Seen In Some Children's Wear

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is considering stricter standards for the manufacturing of three types of children's clothing to protect toddlers from fire.

Commerce Secretary Maurice H. Stans has ordered a notice placed in the Federal Register indicating that new or revised standards of flammability may be established for children's sleepwear, underwear and dresses.

Data gathered by government agencies has shown that children under 6 years of age are injured more frequently from clothing fires than most other age groups.

Any new standards the government may propose could not become effective until late summer or early fall, however.

Stans said Friday the action on children's clothing is a followup to last year's notice by the department that new or revised flammability standards might be needed for wearing apparel generally. He said it also was the latest in a series of moves to implement the Flammable Fabrics Act of 1953 The law was amended in 1967 to give the commerce secretary authority to propose more stringent regulations than the mild standards in the 1953 act.

The secretary noted that new flammability standards for carpets and rugs were proposed recently. He said new standards for bedding and general wearing apparel also may be considered.

Following publication of the notice in the Federal Register, the department must allow 30 days for submission of comments and suggestions. After these are analyzed, then the secretary can propose the new standards which are published in the Federal Register. Another 30-day period must be allowed for comments, and interested parties can ask for hearings if they disagree with the regulations.

Dena Pallo Will Become Bride Of Kenneth Olufs

The engagement of Dena Pallo to Kenneth Olufs has been announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Pallo of Petaluma. Kenneth is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Olufs of Petaluma.

Dena, the sister of Danny, Debra, Dora, Dennis and Daphine Pallo and Mrs. Carl Hale, all of Petaluma, is a graduate of Petaluma High School and is attending beauty school in San Rafael.

Kenneth is the brother of Darlene Moseson and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Kuck and Mr. and Mrs. Adolf Olufs of Petaluma. Mrs. Anna Jurgensen is his great-grandmother. He also was graduated from Petaluma High School.

THEODORE WILLIAM Cox wed Susan Lauren Opferman at St. Isabella's Church. The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. William H. Opferman, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Cox. All are residents of San Rafael. The couple is living in Santa Rosa. (Faulkner photo)

Pyramid Luncheons To Become Symphony Group's Fund Raiser

Members of the Marin Regional Council of the San Francisco Symphony Foundation will participate in the just announced San Francisco fund-raising Project PYRAMID, according to Mrs. Thomas Drohan, president of the Marin Council.

An acronym for "playing your role at mid-day insures dollars," the pyramid begins with one person inviting eight friends to lunch at a cost of one dollar per person. Each of those guests invites seven friends to lunch at one dollar, and each of those invites six. The diminishing pattern continues until it comes down to one person inviting one guest.

The pyramid is completed when the expected total of 40,320 symphony supporters have been hosts at lunches.

The program is designed to broaden interest in and enthusiasm for many musical activities of the San Francisco Symphony and is its major fund-raising endeavor.

ELAINE WOOD, Mary Ailman, Brenda Evanson, Pam Sutherland and Susan Anderson will be initiated into the International Order of Job's Daughters, Bethel 48, at 7:30 on Monday at the Masonic Temple in San Rafael.

Mrs. Angie Goulder, deputy grand guardian of the State of California, will make her official visit. Committee chairmen for the evening will be Shirley Peck and Kathy Burk.

REED DISTRICT Parent-Teachers Club will sponsor adult evening classes at Tiburon schools and homes beginning the first week in February. Mrs. John Clark, 103 Reed Ranch Road, Tiburon is coordinator.

Guitar will be taught on Tuesday evenings at Del Mar School for ten sessions; beginners from 7 to 8 p.m., note reading and music theory from 8 to 9 p.m. and intermediate from 9 to 10 p.m.

Interior Design will be taught on Wednesday evenings, 7:30 to 9 p.m. at Del Mar School for six sessions.

Beginning Stitchery will be taught on Tuesday mornings from 10:30 a.m. to noon at the home of Mrs. Warren Russell, 128 Lyford Drive, Tiburon for six sessions.

Foreign Foods Cooking Class will be held Tuesday evenings, 8 to 10 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Myron Kaplan, 26 Cornell Ave., Larkspur for six sessions.

Antique Restoration will be taught on Thursday evenings from 7:30 to 9 p.m. in Del Mar School for six sessions.

Exercise Dance will be held on Wednesday evenings from 8 to 9 p.m. in Bel Aire School for eight sessions.

Conversational French will be held on Thursday evenings from 8 to 9:30 p.m. at Del Mar School for eight sessions.

NEWLY INSTALLED officers of the Petaluma Community Guild are Mrs. William O'Shea, president; Mrs. Walter Jacobsen, vice president; and Mrs. David Brainard, treasurer. Board members are Mmes. William Patterson, John Mohrman and Harold Erickson.

THE PETALUMA Panhellenic will meet Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. George De Long of Petaluma, to plan for the group's annual mother daughter tea to be held in the spring.

Chairman of the tea is Mrs. Richard Hay, who will be assisted by Mrs. William Bianchini, both of Petaluma.

Any woman who belonged to a national sorority while attending a college or university is invited to attend.

TAMALPAIS TEMPLE 129, Pythian Sisters of San Rafael will hold open officers installation Tuesday at 8 p.m. in Oddfellows Hall in San Rafael.

Officers to be installed are: past chief, Mrs. Keith Dearth; most excellent chief, Mrs. Anthony Bottini; most excellent senior, Mrs. Harold Marple; most excellent junior, Mrs. Harry Simpson; manager, Mrs. James Hasse; guard, Mrs. Robert Cole, protector, Mrs. James Dodds, secretary, Mrs. Joe Whiteley; treasurer Mrs. Mabel Wiley.

Mrs. Bottini will be grand representative with Mrs. Cole as alternate. Mrs. Lloyd Brooks will be captain of degree staff and Mrs. Wiley will be press correspondent.

Mrs. Hasse is chairman of refreshment committee for the evening.

Cutting Fruits

When cutting dates or raisins into very small pieces, use kitchen scissors dipped in flour to prevent sticking.

Sauter-Stirling Rite Held

Susan Stirling became the bride of Robert W. Sauter Saturday in an afternoon ceremony at Stewart Chapel of the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo. A reception at the bride's Mill Valley home followed the ceremony.

Susan's parents are Mr. and Mrs. James R. Stirling, and Mr. and Mrs. John B. Sauter are Robert's parents. All are residents of San Rafael.

Linda K. Stirling of Mill Valley was her sister's maid of honor, and the bride's other sister, Jennifer J. Stirling of San Rafael, was the bridesmaid.

John M. Sauter of San Rafael served as best man, and guests were ushered to their seats by Robert Keith Stirling, also of San Rafael.

The bride was graduated from Terra Linda High School and College of Marin and is employed by Del Monte Corp. in San Francisco. Russ, Keith and Ronald Stirling of San Rafael are her brothers.

A graduate of San Rafael High School, Robert attends College of Marin. He is the brother of John B. Sauter Jr. of New Hampshire and the grandson of Mrs. Katherine Sauter of Mill Valley.

The couple will live in San Rafael following a wedding trip to Las Vegas and Anaheim.

but in the beauty of workmanship and what they reveal about home life of their periods.

"You would expect (handmade) kitchen objects to be relatively crude, but they were made to the high standards that the guilds demanded (before the days of manufacturing.)"

Founders often cast the kitchen cauldrons with the same expertise they showed in casting bells, she said.

Authenticating such objects—dating them and identifying country of origin—often is as tough or tougher than locating objects to buy, she said. A collection of photographs and drawings helps.

"The similarities are startling. The numbers and types of cauldrons from different countries and periods are very much alike. You look for little clues—the design of a handle may identify an object. Dated objects are rare."

Mrs. J. L. Hockinson Heads Terra Linda Co-Op Nursery

Mrs. Jack Lane Hockinson is the newly elected president of the Terra Linda Co-operative Nursery School. A two-year-resident of Santa Venetia, she has served as vice president and nutrition chairman of the nursery school during her two years of membership.

According to the new president the nursery school's purpose is to provide a developmental experience for both parents and children.

"Children between the ages of two years and nine months and five years old are given the opportunity to experiment with art mediums on their own and to participate in group play, story time, songs and outside play," she explains.

Elizabeth Hockinson is also secretary of the Marin Chapter of the Delta Gamma Alumnae Association. She attended the University of Miami in Florida.

Mrs. Hockinson and her husband, an airline co-pilot, have a four-year-old daughter, Stasia.

Water skiing and sewing are favorite pastimes for the new president, who is also a member of the Delta Gamma Foundation for the Blind.

Other officers of the nursery school are Mmes. Daphne Ahlenius, vice president; Barbara Schmidt Peterson, secretary; and Linda Thompson, treasurer.

Job Seeker Clearing House Urged

Marin County needs some type of central clearing house for job seekers, job offerers, and those seeking job training, the employment committee of the Marin County Human Rights Commission stressed yesterday.

The employment committee, headed by co-chairman George Higgins, met at a luncheon at Lin Fa Restaurant at Northgate Shopping Center.

Mrs Meredith (Bunny) Dalebout, secretary of the committee, said the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council is working to set up such a clearinghouse, and the employment committee of the rights commission would like to help in any way possible.

Committee members said more industry must be developed in the county if new jobs are to be created, and Northgate Industrial Park is one of the most promising areas.

Robert Smith, employee relations representative for the state Department of Employment office in San Rafael, urged small businessmen to drop some of their reluctance to hire blacks, Chicanos, and women.

Probation Given In Weed Case

Leonard Schectel, 23, of Homestead Valley, yesterday was placed on one-year probation by Judge E. Warren McGuire of Marin Superior Court and ordered to spend the first 60 days of it in Marin County Jail over the heated protests of his attorney.

Schectel had earlier admitted that he sold marijuana to a narcotics agent in July, 1968.

Judge McGuire also ordered Schectel to pay a $150 fine and refrain from the use of narcotics and from associating with people known to use them.

Drug Peddler Suspect Called A 'Fagin' Type

NEW YORK (UPI)—A father of four was described by an angry criminal court justice Thursday as a "Fagin" and a "Jesse James" for allegedly employing three other children to peddle heroin.

The suspect, Victor Santiago, 39, was arrested at a basement apartment and charged with possession of drugs with intent to sell. Detectives said Santiago had given three boys, aged 11, 13, and 15, envelopes of heroin to sell after school for $10 a bag. Santiago's own children are 11, 13, 14 and 5.

Justice Michael Gagliano described as a "Fagin using children to sell the products of his nefarious enterprises."

Gagliano set bail at $100,000, twice the requested amount, and said if the charges against Santiago were true "this man is worse than Jesse James. He kills people without a gun. What this man is accused of doing to children is horrible, not only ruining their morals but their lives."

Detectives said the three young pushers, who were turned over to uvenile authorities after their arrest Tuesday, netted $200 per week selling the drugs to steady customers who knew where to find them on a Brooklyn street.

The youths and Santiago had been under observation since Monday, detectives said. Santiago worked out of the basement apartment but lived with his wife and children at another apartment, according to authorities.

Skelton Opens In White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — Comedian Red Skelton, with a repertoire of puns, pantomime and patriotism, has launched President Nixon's "Evenings in the White House" monthly entertainment series.

The President, in introducing Skelton Thursday night to the black-tie audience of some 275 officials and friends of the Nixons, noted that Skelton has appeared for 19 years on television "and the Vice President never had an unkind word to say about him." This was an apparent reference by Nixon to Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's recent speech criticizing some television news commentators.

THE DISTRACTIONS OF DRIVING

This mishmash of lines and lanes on Bridgeway outside Sausalito limits is to be cleaned up by late spring or early summer when the Marin County Department of Public Works begins four-laning the roadway, county traffic engineer James B. Robertson said this week. Vehicles, like this bus, are either forced to veer left or to drive on the unfinished county portion of the road. Drivers also complain about multiple striping in southbound lanes. Robertson said the project has long been planned but funds were not available until now.

Objections To Duplex Zone Change

Five Fairfax residents objected last night to proposed changing of duplex zoning to single family in various parts of the city during a special meeting of the Fairfax Planning Commission.

According to secretary Eileen A. Foster, the five reiterated objections to the proposed zoning change and were supported by about 50 persons attending the meeting.

The commission amended the zoning ordinance to allow repair for original use of buildings suffering 60 percent damage above the foundation, Mrs. Foster said. The amendment matches building code provisions, she said.

The zoning ordinance will be discussed at an adjourned meeting Feb. 17 at 8 p.m. in the Fairfax Women's Club. A business meeting will be held Wednesday at the same time and place.

Correct Time

Philip Fath, principal clarinetist with the San Francisco Symphony, will be guest artist with the Marin Arts Quartet Sunday at 3 p.m. at the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley. The time of the concert was omitted from a story in yesterday's Independent-Journal.

Freak Wounding Kills Hospital Aide

A 23-year-old Kaiser Foundation Hospital orderly died yesterday, the victim of a weird accident in which he was infected with fatal serum hepatitis.

Terry Joseph Bergeron of San Anselmo contracted the disease on Dec. 3 when he was helping restrain an out-of-control hepatitis patient at the San Rafael hospital, according to Keith R. Craig, Marin coroner's investigator.

A needle which had been in the patient flew out and struck Bergeron causing a puncture wound, Craig said hospital authorities told him. Bergeron subsequently became ill and had been under treatment at the hospital for the disease.

The coroner's office listed his death as due to an industrial accident.

Bergeron, who was single, had lived in Marin County about a year and a half. His residence was at 699 Red Hill Avenue.

Bergeron was a native of Wisconsin and had served two years in the Army Medical Corps. He was engaged to marry Helene Young of San Rafael.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Warren Rumberg of Sacramento, and a brother, Frank Bergeron of Mill Valley.

Requiem Mass will be celebrated at 1 p.m. Monday at St. Raphael's Church in San Rafael. The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. Sunday at the Redwood Chapel Funeral Home in Novato. Burial will be private.

The family requested that any memorial contributions go to the Irwin Memorial Blood Bank.

Burglary Case Probation Given

Judge E. Warren McGuire of Marin Superior Court yesterday placed Patrick Roberty Leahy, 18, of no known address, on two years' probation and ordered him to spend the next 60 days in jail for the Sept. 2 burglary of the Chinese Kitchen in Larkspur.

He also ordered that Leahy submit to periodic testing to determine if he is using narcotics and to pay a $150 fine.

Leahy was arrested after a passerby saw someone reaching into the cash register of restaurant and Larkspur Police Chief Howard H. Clark found him hiding in the men's room of the restaurant.

Disaster Area Set

OAKLAND (UPI)—Wilshire Heights, waterlogged from heavy rains during recent storms, has been declared a disaster area by the Oakland City Council due to earthslides endangering homes.

Middle School Status Sought For Davidson

Davidson Junior High School will become a "middle school" for sixth, seventh and eighth grades next September if plans of the San Rafael city school administration work out.

The plan calls for sixth graders from the Sun Valley, West End, Laurel Dell and San Pedro schools to attend Davidson. Sixth graders from Coleman and Bahia Vista schools would attend Santa Venetia School, which has been a middle school for sixth, seventh and eighth grades north of Puerto Suello Hill for two years.

Putting the plan in operation is contingent on building seven more classrooms at Santa Venetia, Supt. John F. Plank explained today. Whether they can be completed by September is questionable, he said.

The carefully worked-out plan was presented to parents of Coleman School fifth grade children — next year's sixth graders — last week. It has been described to the pupils themselves by Principal George Yertson of Santa Venetia School.

It has yet to be presented to the San Rafael Board of Education. Plank said presentation is scheduled for the Feb. 10 board meeting.

He noted, however, that the board has endorsed the middle school concept.

Transfer of all sixth graders to middle schools will free seven permanent classrooms in elementary schools besides eliminating many of the 20 portable classrooms in use in San Rafael Elementary School District, the superintendent said.

It will free one room at West End School, two at Laurel Dell Intermediate, two at Coleman, one at San Pedro. The classroom at San Pedro and one of those at Coleman would be converted to libraries under the plan.

Plank said additional transportation cost from busing sixth graders to the middle schools has been figured at $4,000. Saving in rental of portable classrooms would be $20,000, he said.

Money to build the additional classrooms and expand the shop at Santa Venetia, plus a music-drama building at Davidson and the remodeling to provide libraries at San Pedro and Coleman is available from school district bonds already sold, the superintendent reported.

The change would increase enrollment at Davidson from the present 800 to about 850, and that at Santa Venetia from the present 400 to about 750, according to the district's enrollment projections.

Last year, it was proposed to build a middle school adjacent to Glenwood School. A bond issue for that purpose failed at the polls, however. Following its defeat, the board of education proposed to put Davidson School on double sessions in order to begin middle school operation throughout the district. This proposal brought an outcry from citizens and was abandoned.

Stork Wins Race In Parking Lot

A Petaluma couple lost a race with the stork last night and became parents in the parking lot at Hillcrest Hospital.

Mrs. Wayne R. Spofford of 49 Holly Heights, gave birth at 2:35 a.m. in the family car to a six-pound, 11-ounce daughter. Nurses Rene Agan and Grace Dunton assisted in the impromptu delivery.

Both mother and daughter were reported in excellent condition today.

New Student Body Slate Is Elected

Bradford Vaughan, a senior, yesterday won the presidency of the Associated Student Body at Novato High School for the spring semester, defeating Dennis Reis, a junior, according to Vice Principal Edward Kraft.

The school does not release the number of votes cast for each candidate, Kraft said. More than 1,000 of the 1,280 students voted.

Sophomores — Blythe Beswick, Steven Cermak, Andrew Cilley, Michael Conrad, Debi Lucas, Linda Pratt and Marc Seales.

Juniors — Josef Hoog, Janise Johnson, Patti Menjou, Carlene O'Connell, Carole Parker, Lorna Shafer and Karen Sisk.

Newspaper Office Window Broken

A window in the women's department office of the Independent-Journal was broken last night by what San Rafael police said may have been a large marble hurled by a heavy-duty slingshot.

Police, however, did not rule out the possibility that a large caliber pellet had been fired into the window, though no projectile was found.

A quarter-inch hole was made in the window and glass fragments, found scattered throughout the room, testified to the force of impact.

The shooting was the latest in a series of incidents—including puncturing of tires and damaging of I-J vehicles— since Jan. 7, when San Francisco Typographical Union No. 21 went on strike.

Goals Committee Schedules Round

The Reed School District's research and instructional assessment committee will hold the first of a series of public meetings Feb. 10 at 8 p.m. in the Bel Aire School multimedia center in Tiburon.

The committee of five citizens was appointed last August by the district board to assist in developing educational goals and objectives for the district.

Subject for the Feb. 10 forum, announced Clifton W. Healey of Corte Madera, chairman, will be: "What sort of education do you believe would best prepare children of today to live in the world of 1985."

Bike Paths Talk

The Marin Cyclists will have a special meeting on bicycle paths Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. building in San Rafael. Elizabeth Terwilliger, a Bay Area conservationist, will speak.

Lesson In Failure Of Fair-Marin Setup

Let's begin by turning back a few pages.

On Sept. 27, 1968, after the president of Fair-Marin reported to the county board of supervisors that he could not come up with a slate of 14 candidates for Fair-Marin's permanent board of directors, we commented in this column that the organization seemed to be unworkable. The editorial concluded:

"How the supervisors, or anybody else, can expect Fair-Marin to efficiently manage a fairgrounds and auditorium and stage a county fair under such a cumbersome setup surpasses understanding. It looks a bit late for the Alka-Seltzer. The supervisors might as well call for the stomach pump and start over."

ON NOV. 20, 1968, the Fair-Marin setup was compared in this column with that of Cal-Expo, at that time going through the wringer in Sacramento. The editorial that day concluded:

"The board of supervisors should accept responsibility for the fairgrounds and auditorium. There is no need for a non-profit corporation. What is needed is county direction, by those elected—and paid—to do the job."

On May 19, 1969, we noted editorially:

"Last week, Fair-Marin came in with its estimate for development of the 80 acres within its jurisdiction. Its figure: $9 million (which happens to be exactly the same figure architect Frank Lloyd Wright tossed off 11 years ago as covering the entire Civic Center plus fairgrounds)."

ON AUG. 5, 1969, after an attempt by Fair-Marin to change the auditorium design in mid-construction, we commented:

"When public officials try to shed their problems by turning them over to committees, outside experts, or non-profit corporations, the problems are likely to keep coming back unsolved and complicated. The supervisors have had a taste or two of this with Fair-Marin. We expect they will have many more."

An "Editor's Notebook" of Oct. 25, 1969, described what Fair-Marin was seen to be by its executive director, Leon G. Kalimos, and commented: "A county fair at the Civic Center? Kalimos seems to think that will be a long time in the future."

LAST DECEMBER, it came to light that a plan for that $9 million development mentioned in May was seen by Kalimos and by Harold Stockstad, Fair-Marin president, as prerequisite to a campaign to raise money to complete the Veterans' Memorial Auditorium to its originally planned 2,100-seat capacity. We commented editorially:

"What we have is the money the taxpayers paid for one thing (a veterans' memorial) becoming the nest egg for something quite different—a $9 million cultural center . . . Truly, strange things have happened to what started out to be a fairgrounds and veterans' memorial building."

ON TUESDAY of this week, the board of supervisors finally gave up on Fair-Marin. By 4-1 vote, its contract to operate the fairgrounds and auditorium was cancelled.

Now it is up to the supervisors to take back county control of these county facilities. We hope that in doing so, they will resort to no such device as a non-profit corporation or a semi-autonomous organization of some other kind. It has been a hard lesson.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Assemblyman Fears Overkill In 'Environment Control' Mania

By HENRY C. MACARTHUR

SACRAMENTO - (CNS) - Fear that legislation pertaining to the improvement of California's environment is going down the drain this year because of over-enthusiasm on the part of the state's legislators was expressed by Assemblyman George W. Milias, R-Los Gatos.

"The legislative halls are literally polluted," Milias said, "with proposals, plans, reports, resolutions, speeches and bills, all purporting to establish firm guidelines for the protection and control of our environment.

"More than half the bills now in the legislative hopper have some relation to environment.

"And it wasn't too long ago when there were just a few of us who dared to mention the term environmental control, or even knew what ecology meant."

ASSEMBLYMAN Milias is a longtime veteran of the California legislative halls, and during his terms as an assemblyman has had opportunity to see the results of headlong rushes into matters of which the promoters have no knowledge.

"Last year it was campus unrest" says Milias "The year before it was law and order. Fortunately, megalomania has brought the cause of the conservationists into the limelight. Unfortunately, it has produced considerable confusion.

"There are two highly political factors which I feel will endanger any chance of success for California in the area of environmental control.

"First, there is political overkill caused by the influx of legislation dealing with pollution and ecology by politicians who view the problem as a natural for a campaign gimmick.

"And then there is apathy on the part of local government in developing their own programs of environmental protection.

Much of what can be done does not need to emanate from the state legislature.

MILIAS IS chairman of the committee on natural resources and is head of a legislative task force studying environmental quality. Almost every measure involving environment will have to clear his committee.

Thus, it is fortunate the state has a chairman of that particular committee who is experienced enough to separate the wheat from the chaff, that is, the "phony" environmental bills from those which will actually accomplish some purposeful results.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Another Praises R. Jeremy Dwyer

In regard to a letter sent in by Miss (Victoria M.) Gormley Jan. 23, I wish to confirm R. Jeremy Dwyer's work with young people.

Before I began consulting Mr Dwyer, I was lost and confused. I had gone from one set of values to another, never really being fulfilled. Mr. Dwyer's help has made me realize the sincerity of human worth. I am learning how all truth and beauty begin within and am developing a deep sense of self-respect through using my time constructively.

Because of R. Jeremy Dwyer, I am one of many who has come to refuse to settle for anything less than a truly meaningful experience.

Some Impressions Of School Board

I have attended most of the recent meetings of the Reed District School Board. To this observer, the following seems to express the basic attitudes of the three new members who now constitute a majority:

(1) The three new members have a mandate to reform Reed education in their own image.

(2) The education professionals (teachers and administrators) don't really know how to educate (but the three new members do).

(3) The solution to most problems in education is strict order and strict punishment.

(4) The complexities of modern civilization and the new understandings of the psychological sciences are unnecessary illusions; the world is really simple and black and white.

(5) All misunderstandings are caused by lazyness (sic) or insubordination.

(6) Rules are more important than teachers.

(7) Though interferes with strength of character.

(9) A compromise is a sign of weakness.

Perhaps I misread these things, and perhaps they are not altogether true. But it does seem to be entirely true that the last few months have seen a disturbing destruction of morale in the Reed school system.

Mental Health Row: Two Central Issues

In all that has been said recently about the mental health controversy, there has been almost no clarification of two of the central issues involved: the very difficult, if not impossible, present administrative set-up of the program, and the question of direct public control of large sums of public money.

When the county was directing the major part of the mental health program, there was one boss of the program. Now that the county is contracting with another agency for the largest part of its program, there are two men responsible for the same program. One is the director of the Community Mental Health Center located at Marin General Hospital. He is in charge of inpatient and outpatient psychiatric services, including all educational and consultative services, and is responsible directly to the Board of Marin General Hospital. The other is the director of Community Mental Health Services. He is required to supervise the program at the hospital and is responsible to the Marin County Board of Supervisors. How if these two directors see eye to eye on how the program should be run, there are no problems. But this is an impossible task to ask of any two men. . .

The second issue which has scarcely been talked about seems very important in my mind, and that is the issue of direct public control of large sums of public money. . . The board of supervisors is responsible to the taxpayers for a program that is costing almost three million dollars in federal, state, and local funds. The largest part of that program is now being administered by Marin General Hospital. The directors of the hospital are voted on by the citizens of the hospital district, but they are not responsible to the board of supervisors. At the present time the board of supervisors has control of its program only insofar as it can terminate its contract with the hospital. This is a very poor way to be responsible for a program. . .

It is a wise step for the board of supervisors to want to take responsibility for its program, even though it will cause some temporary dislocations. . .

Mail Delivery Note Resented

As a postoffice employee, I resent the implication in your comic section of today's (Jan. 26) paper that slow mail delivery caused Lolly and Orphan Annie not to be printed.

I wish you would furnish an accurate answer as the facts of the cade. I am not inferring that the mail service is perfect 100 per cent of the time, but I do know that your organization has had excellent service, and the remarks in the aforementioned comic section sound like a denunciation and are unfair.

Need More Detail On U.S. Spending

Regarding your editorial of Jan. 26, every issue mentioned — peace, reform, inflation, crime, suppression, environment control — involved the expenditure of large sums of money. The amount of money involved is so huge it is beyond the comprehension of the layman. The United States government is the largest collector and spender of money in the world and therefore the strongest power.

I would like to see you have a feature article that would attempt to bring these expenditures down to a level we can understand. How many billion dollars were spent by the U.S. last year? What is a billion dollars? How many dollars collected? What percent was spent on welfare, administration, crime suppression, research, etc.? I would like to see graphs showing how these percentages have changed over the last 20 or 50 years. I would be interested to see similar graphs of other countries so that we could compare them. . .

I am disgusted with the way the government is pouring our tax dollars down a rat hole. This is the most affluent country in the world. We could accomplish so much good for the world if our powers are used in the right direction.

THE DRUMMONDS

Nixon Not Moving To Left— He Has Already Moved There

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

The question: After his election would he move to the left or the right—and how far?

Mr. Nixon is not just moving to the left, he is already there. We believe he is there to stay. Well to the left-of-center of his own party is where he intends to take up permanent political housekeeping.

Not all the movement is in one direction. Some of his actions and words are toward the political right but the balance of policy and thrust is decisively toward the political left.

Obviously he is taking political risks. He has gone far enough now to the left to distress and disillusion many of his most conservative supporters, as illustrated by the American Conservative Union which brands him as a socialist and argues that "he is risking the core of his political strength to win only peripheral support."

The President sees it otherwise. He is convinced that his liberal-minded measures are essential to deal with the nation's acute and lacerating problems and that his reformist approach will build a majority consensus behind the GOP for a long time to come.

HERE IS the principal evidence to show how wide-ranging the Nixon list of liberal-minded social measures has become:

1—Foremost is the most progressive and costly welfare reform since the early New Deal. Its first year would add $5 billion to welfare costs, add 12 million people to the coverage, put federal financing completely behind it and provide an incentive for recipients to increase their income by work while reducing welfare only moderately.

2—A $10 billion program to clean the nation's lakes and rivers in five years which will also put substantial costs on industry to control its pollution of the environment.

3—A national growth policy by which government would consciously plan to reverse the flow of people to our overcrowded cities and shape the nation's future growth to a degree never attempted before.

4—The "Philadelphia Plan," which Nixon forced through Congress to compel building trades unions to open wider their gates for minority employment.

The Nixon administration has expanded job-training, increased unemployment insurance compensation and initiated the wider distribution of free food stamps.

MR. NIXON'S actions which lean to the political right do not impress the President's more conservative supporters as very formidable.

It is welcome to them that he is putting two moderate, relatively strict constructionists on the Supreme Court, but they know that no substantial reversal of court decisions is in prospect.

It is welcome to the conservatives to nave the administration want to delay a few months the public school integration in some southern districts and to act to make enforcement equally applicable throughout the nation. But they know that school integration is the firm commitment of the administration.

Southerners welcome it that the President is not making the South a political whipping boy, but most realize that the "southern strategy" is more a phrase than a reality. The South doesn't see much of it in action.

Many conservatives are unimpressed and very dubious about Mr. Nixon's conservatism.

NOTHING WOULD be more wrong than to leave the impression that President Nixon is some kind of radical. He isn't. But when so much has gone wrong—widespread poverty, widespread hunger, overcongested and ungovernable cities, pervasive pollution and massively crowded highways—Richard Nixon is simply not going to sit around and do nothing.

He has rejected the old Republican philosophy of live and let live.

This puts him at the political center and it is only from there that he feels he can govern—and be re-elected.

Leaders 'Put Aside Politics' To Open Political Slugfest

By STEVE GERSTEL

WASHINGTON (UPI) - The Senate's Democratic and Republican leaders, Mike Mansfield and Hugh Scott, have set the tone for the election year session - a lot of heavy politics.

In days, the two Senate leaders managed to urge senators to suppress politics while at the same time loosening harsh criticism at each other's party.

Their speeches, within a day of each other, appear to be the prelude to a year-long slugfest, not only on the leadership level, but down through the ranks.

With the Senate and House at stake in the elections, the Mansfield-Scott approach was not surprising. What was unexpected, however, is the seriousness with which they cautioned against letting partisan politics predominate.

Mansfield, the mild-mannered Democrat who is less prone to go for the political jugular, started it off with a speech highly critical of the administration.

At a closed meeting of Senate Democrats, Mansfield attacked the administration on a failure to give sufficient recognition to domestic urgencies, inflation, and several other issues. They were strong words.

At the same time, Mansfield said "so far as the Democratic majority is concerned, this will not be a political issue."

Scott, who enjoys politics immensely, replied a day later on the Senate floor and immediately agreed that it was time to "quit putting politics first."

This came after the first three pages of a four page speech in which he lambasted the Democrats.

Scott said Mansfield placed a "curtain of good resolutions" over things the Democrats failed to do "during their sway over the decade of the spendthrift sixties."

He faulted them on Vietnam, the war on poverty, inflation, crime, and welfare.

Alluding to Mansfield's call for new priorities, Scott said "it is time now to reorder our priorities...and put welfare of the nation first, to recognize that today the number one priority is control of inflation."

Mansfield challenged Scott on the Senate floor and got some assistance from his top lieutenant, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass.

"Housewives around the country are wondering when we're going to have a President who will use the power of the presidency to reverse inflation," Kennedy said.

Scott rejected Kennedy's complaint and said "surely we cannot set aside in one year the damage that has been done to the economy in 10 years of Democratic congresses."

They're off and running.

Sausalito-Mill Valley Schools Merger Talk Returns To Life

Dormant for five years, official talk of merging the Sausalito and Mill Valley school districts is alive again.

As trustees in both districts prepare for a joint meeting on restudy of the issue, the mood is cautious. Highly placed officials in both districts are eager, but the pulse of the electorate particularly in Mill Valley, is unknown.

Sausalito, financially and racially troubled, would clearly benefit by a merger. Outside of a reduction in class size, all that's in the deal for Mill Valley, as we see it, is applause for heroism.

That is not meant facetiously. Through unionization, Sausalito's growing black enrollment could be spread out, forming the basis of a truly integrated atmosphere in Southern Marin. It remains to be seen whether the parents of Mill Valley are ready for a breakthrough.

COUNTY AND LOCAL human rights officials are behind a merger, but many parents are wary in view of the widely publicized difficulties in the Sausalito district.

Unionization was last studied in 1964, but little community interest surfaced. At that time, G. R. McConnell, former Mill Valley superintendent, said a union district tax limit would support the existing educational program and that the districts would be able to spread maintenance costs over a broader base.

He said a merger also would afford flexibility in pupil assignment, forestalling construction of new facilities. He cautioned, however, that costly busing would be necessary for pupil distribution.

The first official step toward merger would be submission of a petition signed by 25 per cent of the registered voters in each district to the county superintendent of schools, who then would order an election. A voting majority in each district would be necessary to combine the districts.

SPEAKING of breakthroughs, Feb. 9 is a pivotal date in the early life of plans by the Ecumenical Association for Housing to construct a moderate income housing development on the Hilarita site.

That's when the Tiburon City Council is scheduled to consider a recommendation by the city planning commission to rezone the property from multiple residential to planned development, under which the city would gain more control over the plans.

Councilman Thomas E. Drohan pinpointed the issue two years ago when the council said it would permit moderate income housing on the site:

"We don't want the Tiburon Peninsula to become an island, a preserve of the idle or the active rich where you need to make $40,000 a year to get in. We need a place for young families just getting started and the elderly long-time Tiburon residents to live."

CONSIDERABLE objection to the development was raised at that time, centering around these points: that the area would become a "tenement district," that Tiburon was essentially a single-family community and should remain that way, and that residents living in the Hilarita project would be excluded because of higher rents.

But Martin Mackey, executive director of the ecumenical association, says he feels opposition has eased as a result of discussions with residents around the site. He said of 20 to 25 persons who opposed the project a year ago, only three or four remain.

"But it's too early to be optimistic," he said.

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Fair-Marin Result Inevitable; Environment Issue vs. Taxes

There were three especially attention-grabbing stories in the Wednesday I-J. The first of course was the big three column headline: "Supervisors Fire Fair-Marin From Fairgrounds Job".

Fusselman

The second was veteran political writer Henry C. McArthur's "Affairs of State" on the editorial page: "Maybe 'Environment' Can Keep Peoples Minds Off Taxes." The third, on page 11: "Behr's Idea On Curbing Population." He is a candidate for the state Senate. The third paragraph went so: "Marin County faces a population explosion curve equal to or greater than that of most underdeveloped countries," Behr said. Population control was the most important issue in the ENVIRONMENTAL (caps are mine) crisis, he declared.

This puckish memory of mine went back two years or so when he was quoted as saying at a supervisors' meeting that he "wasn't going to let a tax rate scare him."

This Fair-Marin debacle has always seemed to me as being inevitable. There are some mighty fine people in the Fair-Marin group. I know them well and am sorry to see them enmeshed in this.

However, putting 80 of the 140 acres of the site under control of any private organization, whether incorporated or not, is just asking for trouble.

One of the two men out at Brasilia, who people say, speak with one voice, Bruce the administrator, can carve another notch on his totem pole of failures, for he pushed this idea no end instead of recommending that it be put in the hands of the county parks and recreation commission. He apparently was cooking up the idea of ditching that commisison. He later did try that very thing.

John McInnis, the other half of the voice is quoted in the Wednesday story as saying, "It was a noble EXPERIMENT (again the caps are mine) but it can't continue in this way." These experiments that have been going on out there can't be brushed off with a pompous declamation. Eighty of the 140 acres is just a bit too much to be playing experimental games with, and "don't you ever forget it", you two. It was bound to bomerang.

This is symptomatic of the soggy premise that whole operation is built upon—"La Grande" manner—Witness this in Tuesday's editorial: "Supervisor chairman John F. McInnis insisted the auditorium must open 'with a performance of national stature' " "With 800 seats?" asked the editorial.

Wat Takeshita's Reporter's Notebook gave some figures he got from auditor-controller Mike Mitchell, that it would take $442,300 per year to maintain the Hall of Justice—which makes $664,770 per year for both structures. The miracle quarter mile. How about that? Doesn't it wonder you a bit? "So be I".

Next week I hope to present a plan that I believe will give you the quality of service you are entitled to and for a lot less money as well.

Way Cleared For Point Reyes Deal

CARSON CITY, Nev. (UPI)—The State Board of Finance authorized Clark County yesterday to borrow $2 million in a three-way land swap in which billionaire Howard Hughes may wind up with 150 acres near the McCarran Airport at Las Vegas.

The federal government would put up its Las Vegas land, a private party would give up its recreation land at Point Reyes, Calif., and Clark County would put up $2 million.

The federal government would end up with the park land in California, the private party would get the money and Clark County would receive title to the airport property. The county then would put the land out for bid.

Clark County Mgr. David Henry said there have been discussions with representatives of Hughes about acquiring the airport property. But Henry said a firm price of at least $2 million must be put up before the property is put out to bid. Thus the country would be able to pay off the loan without adding it on the property tax rate.

Swedes Ban DDT

STOCKHOLM (UPI)—A ban against DDT went into effect in Sweden at the beginning of 1970, but limited use of the pesticide on pine trees will be permitted for the rest of the year. The Swedish forest industries formerly used 60 tons of DDT a year. During 1970 only 13 tons will be used by special permission.

College Trustees Look At Budget; Deficit Report Is No Surprise

The Marin Junior College District board took its first look at the 1970-71 budget last night and found itself staring a potential half-million-dollar deficit in the face.

It was no surprise. Trustees recalled taking a meat axe to departmental budgets last year, and said they hoped to avoid such an across-the-board approach this year.

Anticipated district income for 1970-71 is $4,055,142, with reserves bringing the available total to $4,475,456. Anticipated expenditures, including salary proposals and department budgets as submitted, will be $4,966,885, leaving a gap of $491,429.

Income is expected to drop $19,155 from this year's total, despite an anticipated $85,000 extra in local district taxes for a total $2,294,760. Cuts are expected in federal aid, state equalization aid, vocational education money and interest income.

To avoid another heavy-handed budget cutting, Trustee Harry J. Moore said, a blue-ribbon group should determine which departments were hurt worst by last year's cuts--"which are bleeding to death . . . (where) another cut would be the coup de grace."

If another across-the-board cut is made he said "I'm afraid we will have some problems we can't solve."

"We assume the fat has already been trimmed" from department budgets, student body president Kimo Campbell said. "More cuts will be muscle and bone," resulting in a downward spiral in the school's quality of education.

"What you do," Campbell said, "is go to the taxpayers and say there's no room for Johnny or Susy...." If taxpayer support is not there, he said, the college will have to take fewer students to maintain quality education.

Trustee Charles W. Gray agreed, but said the taxpayer is feeling punitive toward the college because "we've been misbehaving over here--I'm not talking about the accuracy of that opinion" but it exists Gray said.

The trouble with limiting enrollment, Trustee Donald K. Felt said, is that white Kentfield students will still find college somewhere, but the poor and minorities will be shunted aside and lose their last chance.

An initial place to cut, Moore said, would be the requests for 21 more faculty members. Another suggestion was not to hire replacements for five teachers to be on sabbatical leave during the year.

Supt. John A. Grasham and his assistant, Louis H. Herkenhoff, warned against "internal bloodletting" that could result from cutting present teaching staff, as proposed by Gray.

Gray proposed that each department should be told to make a 10 per cent reduction in its budget, letting the department itself decide where the cuts should come.

Board president Robert E. Rogers suggested a review of all programs to learn the cost per student in each. Grasham argued that while "we know nursing is expensive," it is still taught because it is considered valuable.

Roberts agreed, but said such analysis might show where economies could be made without weakening education.

Grasham said some departments might analyze their programs and find some courses could be offered less frequently, or some courses dropped.

"We should look again at class size," Felt said. "To the extent small class size is not necessary...it is very, very expensive."

Rogers offered another idea to lever the state into providing more aid. "We can prove we need the north campus next year by renting buildings all over the county," he said, hiring more staff and "giving everyone a chance" to attend the college.

"If we had the north campus there this year," Grasham said, "we couldn't hire the staff to run it."

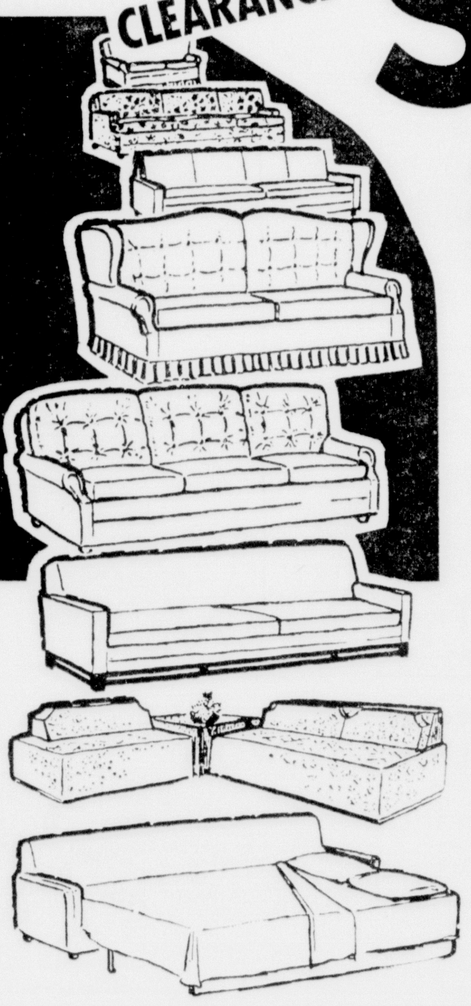

Gray also suggested a study of the cost effect of adding two six-week summer sessions to make College of Marin a full-time school.

The change "probably would be to our advantage," said business manager Norman Bird, but the question mark is whether student interest would be high enough.

Herkenhoff said a faculty meeting will be held next Thursday to spell out to teachers how big the budget gap is.

Today is Friday, Jan. 30, the 30th day of 1970 with 335 to follow.

The moon is in its last quarter. The morning stars are Mercury and Jupiter. The evening stars are Venus, Mars and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1835 a demented painter, Richard Lawrence, tried to assassinate President Andrew Jackson. He fired two shots at Jackson in Washington. It was the first attempted presidential assassination.

In 1962 Cuba was expelled from the Organization of American States.

Her Persuasion Pays Off Well

LONDON (UPI)—Mrs. Molly Dimmock went to court to seek an increase in the 1,500 pounds ($3,600) she previously had been awarded for the loss of her sense of smell in a car wreck.

"I thought women wore perfume for the benefit of men," said Lord Justice Russell during the discussion.

The judge agreed. He increased her award to 4,000 pounds ($9,600).

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Today's Hand Is Typical Of Friend's Power Of Finessing

A close friend of mine prides himself on taking more finesses per hour than any other player in the Western world, in or out of the booby hatch. You don't maintain this kind of standing by sitting and thinking. As soon as the dummy comes down on the table you are taking your first finesse. On a good day, you might even play two tricks and take two finesses while your partner is still placing his cards on the table. Today's hand is typical of his technique.

SECOND SUIT

West thought of leading the unbid suit but came to the conclusion that this might well give declarer his ninth trick. For lack of anything better to do, West decided to lead through dummy's second suit.

My finessing friend played the jack of clubs from the dummy, shaving one-tenth of a second off the previous Olympic record for the first finesse of a hand.

East covered with the queen of clubs, and declarer won with the ace. He ran his four diamonds and then resumed the play of the clubs. East got in with the nine of clubs and led the jack of spades to see what would happen. Down two.

SEDATE PLAY

South makes his contract if he doesn't try to set any speed records. He makes a sedate play at the first trick, allowing West to win with the ten of clubs.

If West leads another club, South can pick up the rest of the suit with the ace and king. Declarer gets the three club tricks he needs without allowing East to get in for a spade shift. If West switches to a different suit, South can try the clubs for himself.

FRIEND UPSET

When I mentioned this to my friend, he was upset. "I'd rather lose my shirt than play like a pussycat," he declared. And while he was talking, he took a finesse absentmindedly with his left hand. If you want to hold the world championship you have to keep in practice.

DAILY QUESTION

S—K 4
H—A 7 6 4
D—Q 10 7
C—A 6 5 3.
What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid one club.

The hand is clearly worth an opening bid since you have 13 points in high cards and point for the doubleton. Bid a four-card minor suit rather than a weak four-card major.

Marin Lawmakers Defends Nixon's Veto

I-J SPECIAL REPORT

WASHINGTON — Both of Marin's congressmen voted yesterday with the successful minority that sustained President Richard M. Nixon's veto of the $19.6 billion appropriation for the departments of labor and health, education and welfare.

Reps. William S. Mailliard, R-Sixth District, and Don H. Clausen, R-First District, voted against a Democratic move to override the veto. The move, in a 226-191 vote, failed to get the needed two thirds majority to override.

EXECUTIVE'S PARADISE

This is one of the most spectacular homes you'll ever see. Over 5000 sq. ft. of living area, on ½ acre of land, with an unobstructed marine view overlooking the bay and yacht harbors. No cost has been spared in its construction. This magnificent home was designed for entertaining and gracious living. One of the highlights of this home is a tremendous social room, with a 15 ft. wet bar, looking out on the bay and the beautifully landscaped grounds. This is a one of a kind property and is a must see. This home is only 3 years old and can not be duplicated at $155,000. Use your present home as trade or down payment.

COMPARE!

BUYING A HOUSE WITH RENTING AN APARTMENT OR WITH OWNING YOUR OWN APARTMENT HOME.

In today's highly mobile and changing society, an ever greater number of people are moving into apartments because of the advantages they offer. People today WANT to have a pool. They WANT to spend their leisure time doing things other than yard work and painting. In other words, the apartment dweller is wary of becoming a house buyer for he suspects that his house might absorb his time and money and end up owning him.

It is well known that the renter of an apartment is penalized for his freedom. His rent money isn't buying anything, whereas the homeowner's or apartment home-owner's payments are slowly but surely building up equity. Just as important, the homeowner and apartment homeowner get to deduct the taxes and interest he's paid out every month from his annual Federal Income Tax returns in April.

SHOWS OFF FURNISHINGS — Mrs. Ronald Reagon showed newsmen this antique desk yesterday during a tour of the governor's rented mansion in Sacramento which has touched off a furor over the possibility of conflict of interest. During the tour Mrs. Reagan said she wanted it fully understood that the gifts in the home were to the state and not to the Reagan family. (AP Wirephoto)

Mansion Furor Brings Probe Call By Burton

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A Democratic Assemblyman says the Legislature should investigate whether Gov. and Mrs. Ronald Reagan are guilty of conflict of interest for renting their $170,000 home from wealthy friends and soliciting furniture from private citizens.

Assemblyman John L. Burton of San Francisco said Thursday that only through "an impartial bi-partisan investigation can we hope to get at the truth."

Earlier in the day, Mrs. Reagan held a news conference in the living room of her rented home to explain why she solicited $125,000 in furniture and paintings for the governor's residence and office.

Mrs. Reagan said she considers the project her "most important contribution" to the state because she wants to turn the governor's residence and office into a "show place" in which Californians can be "proud."

She also said she is "upset" because the residence and furnishings have become a "political football" during the election year.

Burton noted that Assembly Minority Leader Jess Unruh, a candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, has raised "the question of impropriety" in Reagan's arrangement with his landlords.

"The legislative inquiry should concern itself with one issue and one issue alone—did any of the contributors stand to profit financially as a result of caring for the governor's personal needs?" Burton said.

"If the wealthy donors want only good government in return for their valuable gifts, they should sue the governor for lack of performance."

The Reagans moved out of the official century-old governor's mansion shortly after they came to Sacramento. Efforts by private citizens to build a mansion and give it to the state have failed.

Mrs. Reagan suggested an "answer" to the problem may be for the state and private citizens to share the cost of building a new governor's mansion.

"We couldn't afford to buy a house, nor should we be asked to, really," said California's 46-year-old first lady. "The state is supposed to provide living quarters for the governor."

While the fate of a potential new mansion is being decided, Mrs. Reagan said, there are many "good citizens" who want to contribute valuable furnishings.

"You had better take them right then and there," she said, "or they're going to go to a charity or something."

And she said, "there was no other place to put some of the furniture except here" in the rented house.

About $25,000 in furnishings and paintings hace been deeded outright to the state from private citizens, Mrs. Reagan said. Another $100,000 in items, including rare antiques, is on loan and hopefully will be donated permanently, she said.

Youth Hurt In Auto Collision

A 15-year-old San Marin High School student was injured in a two car accident at 7:36 a.m. today at San Marin and San Andreas drives, Novato, police reported.

Nicki A. Sproul of 55 Western Drive was treated for a cut forehead at Novato General Hospital.

She was a passenger in a car northbound on San Andreas driven by Joseph M. Ford, 16, of 26 Sylvia Circle, Novato. It collided with a westbound car on San Marin, driven by Donald K. Cavallero, 18, of 154 H Lane, Novato, according to police.

Death Recalls Old Royal Romance

NEW YORK (AP) — Thelma Lady Furness, who wrote that her romance with the Duke of Windsor ended when she asked her friend, Wallis Warfield Simpson, to "look after the prince," died Thursday. She was 65.

Lady Furness collapsed and died while going to a doctor's office. She had been visiting her niece, Mrs. Wyatt Cooper, the former Gloria Vanderbilt. Lady Furness lived in Beverly Hills, Calif.

Her romance with the Duke of Windsor, who was then Prince of Wales and future King Edward VIII of England, was broken, Lady Furness wrote, when she left tEngland in 1934 on visit America and told Mrs. Simpson to "look after the prince."

Lady Furness described her life in "Double Exposure," a 1958 autobiography written with her twin sister, the late Mrs. Reginald Vanderbilt.

Prior to her involvement with the Duke of Windsor, Lady Furness had been married to and divorced from both James Vail Converse, a New York businessman and Viscount Marmaduke Furness, who had inherited one of Britain's largest fortunes.

Imagination In Nudity Sentence

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — A Municipal Court judge, attempting to make the punishment fit the crime, says he used a little imagination in sentencing a couple convicted of throwing frisbees while nude on the University of California campus.

Judge Mario Barsotti sentenced Reginald Gulick, 21, to 10 days of planting trees for the city, adding: "Hopefully, they will be fig trees . . . he could have borrowed a leaf or two" before the arrest.

The sentence for Della Striker, 19, was 10 days of sewing clothes for the needy with a church organization. After passing sentence Thursday the judge said, "If she can help some one else, if not herself, to realize that it's a good thing to wear clothes—fine!"

The couple, non-students, was arrested Sept. 23 and convicted of lewd conduct. A frisbee is a colored plastic disc that can be tossed back and forth in a game of catch.

Four Men, Woman Jailed In Executions Over Dope

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Ex-convict Michael Joseph Paprskar Jr., once described by police as a "small-time hoodlum," was in jail today, charged with four other persons in a bizarre triple murder.

The five, described by police as "hippie types," were arrested at dawn Thursday and accused of the Jan. 20 slaying of two men and a small boy.

About 40 officers made the arrests at Paprskar's combination motorcycle shop and living quarters on the city's northwest side. They carried a warrant naming Paprskar, 28; his wife Bonnie, 26, and three other men.

The five are charged in the shooting of Samuel Ramirez, 26, his brother Daniel Ramirez Sr., 23, and the latter's son, Daniel Jr., 4.

Detectives said they were murdered because Daniel Ramirez sold Paprskar some "bad heroin" on which he became ill.

The others charged were identified as Harrell Anderson, 22, his brother, Danny, 20, and Edward Miller, 19, all of Ft. Worth.

Asst. Dist. Atty. John Brady said the group's leader was Paprskar.

A policeman said Paprskar catered to a "motorcycle gang" type at his shop and others followed his commands. It was in 1960 when Paprskar was charged with a narcotics violation that an officer called him a small-time hoodlum.

Bullet-riddled bodies of the Ramirez brothers were found in a pool of blood in the truck of their car.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Man's Secret Halo Of Germs

VAN DELLEN

The layer moves slowly in an upward direction with circular currents as it goes around corners and into crevices.

MAN'S HALO contains many more bacteria than are present in the surrounding air. It also contains dead scales from the skin on which microbes ride; some fall to the ground. The highest bacterial counts are obtained from parts of the body where the flow of air is slowest.

Since many of the microorganisms are inhaled with each breath, Dr. Lewis believes that this may be one of the missing links in how we acquire airborne infections.

It is well-known that planets orbit the sun. This study demonstrates that particles and bacteria are orbiting man. Who knows but in the microscopic world, smaller germs may be orbiting larger germs.

THALIDOMIDE MAY get a chance to redeem itself. This tragic drug is reported to be of value in combating the fever, nodules, and muscle aching associated with leprosy (Hansen's disease). It acts quickly and has none of the side effects associated with the cortisone-like hormones, currently used for this purpose.

Thalidomide was sold (without a prescription) as a sedative in Europe. The offspring of many mothers who used the product were born with diminutive arms and legs.

The drug will not be administered to women of childbearing age at the various leprosariums where the drug is being tried. However, these women make up only a small percentage of the total number of patients.

(Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

INDOOR TEMPERATURES

H. writes: My wife likes an indoor temperature of 68 degrees in the winter. Isn't this too low? I have to wear a sweater.

REPLY

Yes, it is a bit low. This is a switch in that women usually complain about the cold, chiefly because they are dressed in lighter-weight clothing. Some, however, have an overactive thyroid which steps up metabolism. If there is any question of this situation, suggest to your wife that she have a medical consultation.

BLOOD PRESSURE

L. W. writes: If a person takes high blood pressure medicine, must he keep it up for life?

REPLY

Only if it lowers the pressure, and keeps it at a safe level. There are several hypotensive agents available and the physician may switch from one to another if the patient shows signs of intolerance to the product he has been taking.

NEIGHBORS IN NIGHT

J. B. writes: We have neighbors overhead who have to be real swingers. The noise is unbelievable. It begins about 9 p.m. and continues into the early morning hours. This racket is making us extremely nervous. Do you have any suggestions?

REPLY

If you cannot remedy the situation or adjust to it—move.

DOUBLE PHOBIA

M. P. writes: I know many women who panic when they find themselves in a closed room or crowded quarters. What is the name of this form of nervousness?

REPLY

Demo Is Fired As Researcher

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A Senate staff member who is a Democrat has been fired and his job given to a Republican but Senate leader Howard Way says the move was prompted by economy, not politics.

Senate Research Director Harold Winkler, a Senate staffer for six years and a Democrat, has had his post abolished. His duties will be taken over by David Swoap, a Republican and a former aide to Way, R-Exeter.

But Way said political pressure from the Republicans was not behind the switch, although he acknowledged "that's the way the rumor mill has it."

Way said economy and staff reorganization led to the decision to combine Winkler's post with another job already vacant and to turn the new post over to Swoap, who was once Way's administrative assistant.

Marinite Hurt In Span Wreck

Daniel D. Tompkins Jr., 29, of 545 Bridgeway, Apt. 1-A, Sausalito, was hospitalized today with multiple head cuts and injuries to both legs after his fast-moving car skidded across all six lanes of Golden Gate Bridge and hit the steel curb, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The patrol said Tompkins' car went through the toll plaza at 1:20 a.m. at 50 miles an hour, then reached 80 miles an hour on the bridge. As he changed lanes, the patrol said, Tompkins' car skidded into the west curb near the north tower.

Tompkins was treated at Park Emergency Hospital and then admitted at Franklin Hospital in San Francisco. The hospital declined to state his condition or the extent of his injuries.

Bird Recordings To Be Featured

The Marin Audubon Society will feature slides of local birds and tape recordings of bird calls at its monthly public meeting, Feb. 6, at 8 p.m. at Ross School.

The society also has announced a series of field trips, including:

Feb. 2--Hike to Limantour Spit; Feb. 8--Pine Gulch Creek Delta; Feb. 9--Canoe Petaluma River; Feb. 16--Bicycle around Richardson Bay; Feb. 21—hour Thornton area of Sacramento River Delta; Feb. 23--Boat trip to Petaluma.

In addition, the society will show the wildlife film "Tidewater Trails" Feb. 22 at 7:30 p.m. at the College of Marin, Kentfield.

Crocodiles Groan Don't Shed Tears

DETROIT (UPI)—A myth of a hungry crocodile brought about the expression "crocodile tears," according to the Handy Book of Literary Curiosities, published by the Gale Research Co.

The old superstition has it that to lure victims within reach crocodiles would make moaning, sighing sounds like a person in distress. In fact, the book says, crocodiles do emit loud and plaintive cries something like the howling of dogs.

Speaker Announced

Walter Holler of Richmond, past deputy supreme governor for Northern California Moose will be guest speaker at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the seventh anniversary observance of the Novato Moose Lodge at 850 Lamont Avenue. Initiation of new members, dinner and dancing will follow.

Marin's Flood Damage Is Over The $600,000 Mark

The estimate of damage to Marin's public roads, highways and bridges from December and January floods is $622,000. James V. Burdick, deputy director of Civil Defense reported yesterday.

Marin has been declared a disaster area, retroactive to Dec. 17, by Gov. Ronald Reagan, but further confirmation must come from federal officials before Marin can get federal disaster relief aid, Burdick explained.

Several state officials, including Edward W. Gustafson of the Division of Highways, were expected in Marin today to assess damages to public roads and bridges. Their report to Washington will determine federal action.

The $622,000 public damage is in addition to estimated $600,000 damage to private homes and businesses, and another $100,000 to $150,000 loss at Point Reyes National Seashore.

Victims of private damage to homes and businesses are eligible to apply to the federal Small Business Administration for low interest loans to repair flood damage.

Toastmasters Club Seats New Officers

T/Sgt. Edward H. King has been installed as the new president of the Hamilton Defenders Toastmasters Club at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Other officers installed were S/Sgt. Kimmie Kinnermon, educational vice president; First Lt. John Archacki, administrative vice president; Capt. George Mullin, secretary-treasurer, and A/1C David Peters, sergeant-at-arms.

Reagan's Views On Birth Control

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Gov. Ronald Reagan said today he favors government distributing birth control information but strongly opposes mandatory mass sterilization as a means of controlling the population explosion.

"Who would play God?" he asked. "Is it less barbaric to stop a life from starting than it is to stop a life from continuing?"

Reagan discussed population control in a speech prepared for the YMCA's annual model legislature in the Assembly chamber, an exercise in government.

Reagan said if population control advocates "mean a wide-scale effort on the part of public and private organizations to inform the people on the need for birth control—based on individual and family decision—I would be in accord."

TV REVIEW

Tim Conway Show Will Bow Tonight

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—CBS-TV tonight offers a midseason replacement series, "The Tim Conway Show," a weekly half-hour situation comedy about the chief—and only—pilot of a one-plane airline. The pilot is not too bright and bumbles a lot. The series is not likely to be sponsored by a commercial airline.

Personally, I like it when anybody undermines the Disneyland-in-the-sky image projected by the big airlines. There's an awful lot that's funny about flying nowadays, and the Conway series has a wealth of material to draw on. One of the funniest moments on tonight's premiere finds Conway sitting down next to the only passenger on his flight, saying straight into his face: "Good afternoon. This is your pilot speaking."

UNUSUAL COMEDY

The Conway series quite naturally presents quite a bit of the usual situation comedy formula approach — from odd-ball characters to simplistic style. But in its own unpretentious way, the debut does have a reasonable sense of humor. Above all, it has a couple of funny fellows in the chief parts--and that's half the battle.

The lead, of course, is good comedian. He's the best bumbler television has had since Martz Ingels in the fine series "I'm Dickens ... He's Fenster," which also starred John Astin. Conway's costar is Joe Flynn, doss of the one-plane service. Flynn and Conway previously appeared together in the old series "McHale's Navy," and they are very well suited to each other.

CHIEF PROBLEM

In this show, they are the total personnel of the "Triple Airline. Their chief problem, among others, is getting the plane to fly. After that, their major obstacle is the pilot. He doesn't fly too well.

Tonight's premiere has some very funny moments in a slapstick, near-catastrophic flight in which Conway and Flynn think their only passenger is a hijacker because he's from Cuba. The result is panic in the air, with everyone accidentally locked out of the pilot's cabin, and some skillful physical comedy combined with Conway's pleasantly wild, low-key approach.

I also liked Babian Dean as an airport lunch counter proprietor who earnestly tries to run his place with the elegance of the Waldorf despite his unfortunate tendency to talk like a stevedore.

Radio Speeds Up Ships' Arrivals

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Successful clearance of ocean vessels through quarantine by radio at the Port of San Francisco during a six-month period has led the National Communicable Disease Center to extend the procedure to all U.S. ports.

Known as "Radio Pratique," the system permits inbound ships to meet quarantine requirements while at sea and to proceed directly to their berths to start cargo operations.

Formal public health inspection is performed at the berth, and in many cases crew members and passengers are not examined. A total of 1,100 vessels were cleared by radio at San Francisco during the six-month experimental period.

Thwarts Old Jokes

Roy Bogas Will Play Piano With Marin Symphony

Pianist Roy Bogas will be guest soloist with Sandor Salgo and the Marin Symphony Orchestra when they present the West Coast premiere of Andrew Imbrie's chamber symphony on Feb. 28 at 7:30 p.m. in the College of Marin gymnasium.

Also performed in this second concert of the Marin Symphony's 1969-70 season will be Faure's "Peleas and Melisande" and Schubert's Symphony No. 7.

This will be the second appearance of Bogas as soloist with the Marin Symphony. His first performance was in 1964 when he was featured in the Mozart Piano Concerto No. 23 in A Major.

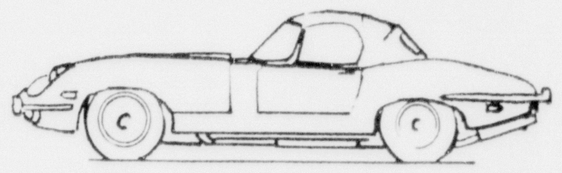

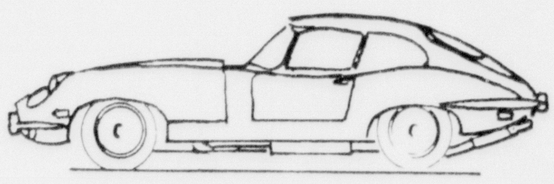

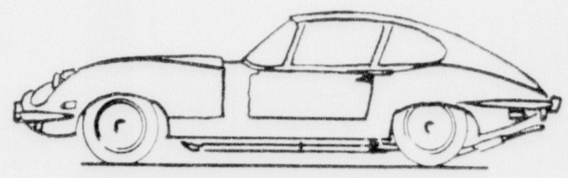

Bogas came to worldwide attention in 1962 when he placed second in the international Tchaikowsky competitions in Moscow. Since then he has performed widely as a concert pianist and accompanist.

College Band Seeks Young, Adult Recruits

The College of Marin Community Band has openings for new members, including adults from the community and high school students, conductor John H. Myers said yesterday.

The first rehearsal will be held Feb. 4 at 7:30 p.m. in room 75 of the college's Fine Arts Building.

Giant Step To Remedy 49er Major Weakness

Coach Dick Nolan, who has said that kicking is 75 per cent of the game and his San Francisco 49ers proved it by playing two-bit football, has taken giant strides this week to remedy the team's greatest weakness—a case of toe main poisoning.

First Nolan negotiated the trade that sent Kermit Alexander to Los Angeles for veteran placekicking star Bruce Gossett and yesterday the 49ers hired University of Pacific head coach Doug Scovil as their kicking coach.

Scovil, 42, will handle all phases of the kicking game, including returns and coverage in addition to the foot work. The job had been held by ex-fullback Joe Perry whose imposing gridiron credentials did not include kick-coaching. He will join the 49ers' scouting team.

Anyway, the recent developments seem to brighten the 49er outlook, but with their luck, Gossett'll probably come up with the gout.

Chance For Former Drake Man

By the way, former Drake High coach Ken Blue is a possible successor to Scovil at Pacific. Ken, who coached Drake to a 4-5 record in 1953, has been one of Scovil's assistants at Stockton.

FIRST THE Trans-Am, now the Can-Am. Hot dam, Sam.

There were cheers at Sears Point International Raceway yesterday when officials of that southern Sonoma County motorsports complex learned they had been awarded the Nov. 8 final race on the $1 million 1970 Canadian-American Challenge Cup road racing schedule.

"The Can-Am is the premiere series in international road racing," said SPIR executive vice president and director of operations William C. McCormick Jr. "It's one of the big ones we've been shooting for."

He added that the Can-Ams are "among the fastest race cars ever built" and the series "as a whole pulls the largest crowds in road racing."

The Can-Am will be the coup de grace on Sears Point's calendar. On Wednesday the Sonoma track was awarded the Continental championship series for Formula A cars on June 28, a week later than last year, and the Trans-American series for late model "pony" cars like Mustangs, Camaros and Javelins on Sept. 20.

Should Draw At Least 35,000

Last September the Trans-Am drew 23,000 to Sears Point, largest crowd on its first year's schedule. A throng of 35,000 or more is a good guess for the more prestigious Can-Am and its purty putt-putts and big name international drivers like Bruce McLaren, Denis Hulme, Jack Brabham, Dan Gurney, Mario Andretti, John Surtees, John Cannon, Chris Amon, et al.

The Can-Am series has been dominated the past three seasons by New Zealanders McLaren and Hulme, but competition is expected to increase this year. Such road racing titans as Lola, Porsche and Ferrari are building cars for the series and a two-car team from Japan is expected to make its first try at the Can-Am.

Shucks, I might even enter my sweet little Datsun.

Can-Am sports racing machines have no limit on engine size or modifications. They hit speeds in excess of 200 mph, but that is not to say they will travel that fast at Sears Point's 11-turn, 2.5-mile road circuit.

Feels Sears Point Toughest

"I don't know if ours is the tightest of the 11 Can-Am courses, but it's probably the toughest,' 'said SPIR director of events Steve Castoldi. "The Can-Am here will be wild, man. Also, now we can live up to our name as an international raceway."

The series will open June 14 in Mosport, Canada and wind up with three races in California — Laguna Seca at Monterey Oct. 18, Riverside Nov. 1 and Sears Nov. 8.

The series will carry $875,000 in guaranteed prize money with an additional $200,000 in contingency awards posted by manufacturers and suppliers for use of their products. Each race will guarantee a minimum $50,000 purse.

Nicklaus Off To A Fast Start

SAN DIEGO (AP)—Jack Nicklaus sounded a warning to his challengers in today's second round of the $150,000 Andy Williams-San Diego Open:

"I have to do better."

Nicklaus, the defending champion, opened with a brilliant, seven-under-par 65 in Thursday's first round, one stroke better than fast-closing Tony Jacklin, the British Open title-holder.

AT 68

The group of six at 68 includes eGne Littler and Bobby Nichols, while the current Masters champion, George Archer, was one of six at 69.

But Nicklaus, who has the hottest hand on the tour in his appearances, remained the man to beat—and the man to catch.

Nicklaus' 65—he also had a 65 in his last previous competitive round—came on the 6,792-yard Torrey Pines Golf Club course in what he called an "Ideal situation for scoring."

The temperature was in the 70s, the greens held, the fairways were in excellent condition and the mild breeze didn't kick up until the afternon, long after big Jack had finished.

His round was outstanding enough, but even more remarkable because he did some experimenting along the way.

"About my fourth or fifth hole I started having some trouble with my swing, "he said." I wasn't geting the shoulder turn right. I worked it for about nine holes before I got it back where I wanted it.

"It's gratifying to work your way out of some trouble and still be able to score well."

In that stretch of holes— "I just wasn't hitting the ball close to the hole"—he had only one birdie, on a par five when he chipped close and made the putt. But he didn't have a bogey.

He had two 20-footers and put irons within 6, 5, 4 and 1 feet for his other birds.

Others had their troubles, however, particularly PGA champ Ray Floyd and Bert Yancey, winner of last week's Bing Crosby Pro-Am. Floyd took a 75, including four penalty strokes for too many clubs in his bag, and Yancey had a 77.

Billy Casper, Frank Beard and Lee Trevino had 71s. Dave Hill had a 73. Arnold Palmer and U.S. Open title-holder Orville Moody are not competing.

A FRIGHTENING FINALE

Hot Stove League Gets Stoked Up

Kranepool's Verbal Jab At Yaz

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

They've stoked up the hot stove league with fever-pitch activity .... and the New York Mets' Ed Kranepool is keeping a fued simmering on the front burner.

Baseball stuck its head outdoors Thursday with activity on most fronts that included dinners, signings and an announcement that the Chicago Cubs made almost a million dollars profit in 1969 despite their September Swoon.

VERBAL SHOTS

Kranepool, meanwhile, has been firing verbal shots at Boston Red Sox star Carl Yastrzemski for his stand in the Curt Flood suit against baseball's reserve clause.

"Yastrzemski is nothing more than a yo-yo for American League President Joe Cronin," said Kranepool, the Mets' player representative, Yestrzemski went against the Players Association for its support of Flood, who went to court to fight his recent trade from St. Louis to Philadelphia. Flood charges the clause, which binds a player to team, is a modern form of slavery.

"Yastrzemski was aginst our strike last year and now he's going around yelling about a move that will help all 700 baseball players," said Kranepool. "What really gets me is that he couldn't go right to his own player representative with his ideas about our move.

HIS OWN

The Mets' first baseman made the remarks while appearing in Albany, N.Y., for a sports banquet.

Meanwhile, in Chicago, Cub owner Phil Wrigley said his team showed a profit of $909,099 in 1969, their biggest season in a quarter century. The Cubs wound up second to New York after pacing the National League's Eastern Division most of the season.

"I still believe, more firmly than ever, that baseball is a daylight game and I have no intention of installing lights in Wrigley Field now or in the for-

Attles Gets Another Chance For First Win

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Al Attles has been San Francisco Warriors head coach since last Tuesday but will still be looking for his first victory tonight when the Warriors meet the Phoenix Suns at the Cow Palace, 8 o'clock.

Attles, named to replace George Lee, saw his team blow an 82-80 third-quarter lead and lose to the Seattle Supersonics at Seattle Thursday night, 105-101.

It was the Warriors' third straight National Basketball Association loss and their 10th of their last 12 games.

The Sonics pulled away from a 94-94 tie with four minutes left, stretching their lead to 98-94 on two free throws and a field goal by Dick Snyder. They never trailed again.

Bruins, USC Invade Bay Area

If you happen to feel the earth trembling beneath your feet this weekend, don't worry. It probably won't be an earthquake — just California's Pacific-8 Conference basketball teams trying to run each other into the ground.

The Golden State's four Pac-8 entries go at each other in the Bay Area.

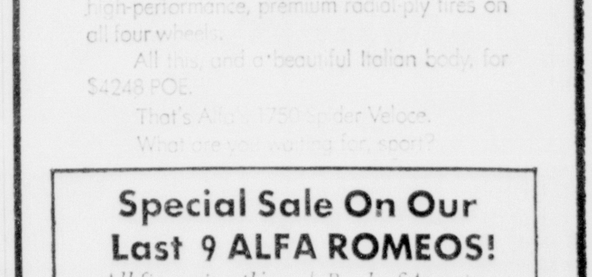

Tonight nationally top-ranked UCLA invades Cal and Southern California, tied with the Bruins for the conference lead with a 2-0 mark, visits a frustrated Stanford five. UCLA and USC will trade opponents Saturday night.

Tamalpais Wins

Tamalpais High School defeated Marin Catholic 82-63 last night in a Marin County Athletic League basketball game. The game was switched from today because both schools had today off for semester break.

Alfa Romeo 1750 Spider Veloce. Be a sport.
And what a class.
This year, Alfa's 1750 Spider Veloce has a larger, more powerful twin-overhead-cam engine. It turns out 132 hp. And at 90 mph about half its power is still in reserve.
The 1750 Spider now also has a new race-proven fuel injection system. A system that improves performance and saves gas. And it's standard.
What else is new?
New pressure-equalized disc brakes on all four wheels. Which means you're going to stop like you never stopped before.
And of course, you still get five forward speeds, fully synchronized. And wide-tread, high-performance, premium radial-ply tires on all four wheels.
All this, and a beautiful Italian body, for $4248 POE.
That's Alfa's 1750 Spider Veloce.

Crosby Golf Monster Brought To Its Knees

When you were a kid, did they have this one scary old man who lived by himself and never talked to anyone and went around mumbling to himself, and the rumor was he was a werewolf or something and if he ever caught you peeking in the window, he'd grab you and turn you into a pygmy or rabbit or something? He kept a lot of cats, remember?

THEN, YOU got older or wiser and you found out he was just a dotty old eccentric?

When you used to go to movies, were you frightened by those monsters that ate New York or man-made creatures with bolts in their heads and sparks coming out from their fingers, who broke out of the laboratory and began to cart little boys off the the cemetery?

AND THEN you found the "monsters" were just insects photographed through a monocle and that the lab monster was just kindly old Harry Pratt who grew daffodils in his spare time?

Well, that's what the Crosby Golf Tournament has turned out to be for me. The "dragon" is really a fly. Dr. Jekyll is not Mr. Hyde. The haunted house is just another "For Rent" place and if you turn on the lights, you find out the "ghost" is just a dressmaker's dummy which moves in the wind when somebody leaves the window open.

YOU ALL saw what Bert Yancey, the golfer and the ultimate winner, did to Spyglass Hill, that piratical old sea dog of golf courses, on Friday? He led it home on a string.

On Sunday, both he and Jack Nicklaus made that roaring lion of the links, Pebble Beach, sit up and beg for a milk bone.

THE TOURNAMENT has fooled more than the golfers. It has fooled the rulesmakers. Its reputation has made them tremble in their cleats, and bend the royal and ancient traditions of the game as if they were afraid that, were they to play the regular rub-of-the-green game, some golfer would get washed out to sea and never be heard from again, or part of the field would disappear in quicksand or get permanently lost in a pine grove.

YOU SAW the TV on Sunday? Sun shining, barometer rising, seagulls soaring on the windless skies, the sea glassy. They were heading five-irons to the 17th which is reckoned ordinarily to be a 218-yard drive into the teeth of a gale which could knock destroyers on rocks. Yet, they were letting players move their ball one club-length in any direction, with the possible exception of straight up. They might as well have let these guys carry the ball up the fairways.

YOU SEE, they were still tip-toeing past a haunted house. They still thought they saw something move in the graveyard. It was only a few years ago that Pebble really was demented one day, and not just a dotty old dowager. It raged and blew and rained and tried to sweep the whole field into the Pacific Ocean. It put Arnold Palmer down on the rocks, and his tee shots out to the China Sea. And someone came up to Dave Marr, the golfer, who was covered in oil cloth in the torrential fairways, and announced breathlessly, "Tom Nieporte is 16-over through nine." And Marr, studying his own score which looked like the closing stock prices, said cooly, "Really? Where did he get his birdies?"

WELL, YOU get your birdies in bunches when a winner puts up a 278 at the Crosby and, on the last day, Nicklaus shoots 65, Yancey, 69, Bruce Crampton, 67, and John Jacobs and Mac McLendon, 69's.

When you hit a ball behind a tree and yawn because you know you can move it out, it's time they played a game we used to play on the old company picnics. This is where they gave you a big ball of string, loosely based on handicap, and you could move your ball at will on the course by measuring the distance with string, and simply cutting off the amount of string equal to the distance you moved the ball. If you had 80 feet of string left on 18, and an 80-foot putt, you considered it sunk. If you had enough string, you might only have to hit about five shots a round.

I HATE to see the Crosby turn into a string tournament. Unless they hit casual water big enough to float a row boat, they ought to have to hit it out. We get enough tournaments where the only water on the course is in the ball-washers, or the caddies' towels.

seeable future," said Wrigley.

BANQUETS

Elsewhere in baseball, sports figures gathered in Boston and New York for stops on the banquet circuit. A crowd of more than 800 gathered as baseball luminaries of the past and present were honored at the 31st annual Boston Baseball Writers Dinner. In New York, former Met manager Casey Stengel attended a party for a showing of the team's annual film. Harmon Killebrew of the Minnesota Twins, one of those honored at the Boston dinner, will receive the Tris Speaker Award as baseball's player of the year at the annual Houston sports writers banquet tonight.

Minnesota, Kansas City, and Oakland of the American League and St. Louis of the National League announced signings Thursday.

Dave Boswell, Minnesota's 20-game winner last year, came into the Twins' fold; pitcher Wally Bunker and second baseman Jerry Adair were among those to sign with Kansas City; Oakland signed 10 players, including pitchers Rollie Fingers and Ray Oyler and St. Louis signed four, including pitchers Nelson Briles and Chuck Taylor.

Golfer Injured In Bathroom Fall

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—Ken Still of Tacoma, Wash., slipped in his bathroom Thursday night, suffered three bruised ribs and then withdrew from the Andy Williams San Diego Open golf tournament.

Still went to a doctor immediately after his spill and was heavily taped.

Still, who shot a 73 in the opening round Thursday, said he also might have to pass up next week's Bob Hope Desert Classic at Palm Springs, Calif.

Air Exec Interested In Pilots

OAKLAND (AP)—Even if the group of Seattle businessmen now trying to finance the purchase of the Seattle Pilots should fail, the baseball club may not necessarily have to be moved out of Seattle this season.

An Oakland airlines executive, Edward J. Daly, jumped into the confused situation Thursday, confirming reports he was considering buying the club and keeping it in Seattle.

Daly is not to be confused with Cleveland businessman William Daley, who now owns the club and is trying to sell it for $9 million to a Seatle group headed by Edsard Carlson, a hotel executive.

Edward Daly is president of World Airways, Inc. an Oakland charter carrier. He got into the act at the request of a friend of his, Charles O. Finley, owner of the Oakland Athletics.

A spokesman for Daly confirmed Finley's revelation that Daly had met with several American League owners in nearby Berkeley early this week and that he was looking over the Pilot's financial situation.

But, the spokesman warned, "It would be premature to make any further comment."

Carlson's group has been given until Feb. 6 to come up with the money to buy most of the Pilots from William Daley, who would retain 25 per cent of the club.

Most pressing problem is to raise $3.5 million to cover a bank loan and $2 million more to run the club this season. Groups from Milwaukee and Dallas-Fort Worth are standing by to pick up the club if the Seattle bids fail.

Seals To Begin A Rugged Slate

OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland Seals, despite all their troubles of late, are only two points away from fourth place in the National Hockey League's West Division.

But tonight they begin a rugged three-game slate that could deal a serious blow to their playoff hopes. First, the Seals must play the New York Rangers first in the East Division at 8 o'clock in Oakland Arena.

On Sunday, the Detroit Red Wings come to town for an afternoon contest and next Wednesday the Seals face the Montreal Canadiens.

A's Sign 10 Players To 1970 Contracts

OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland Athletics announced Thursday they have signed 10 players to 1970 baseball contracts.

Coming to terms were pitchers Marcel Lachemann, Bob Stickels, Jim Roland, Fred Talbot and Rollie Fingers, infielders Ray Oyler, Joe Rudi and Jim Driscoll, outfielder Tom Reynolds and catcher Dave Duncan.

BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER

Your trouble may be at the very start — your first step. Most bowlers know that they are supposed to begin with no more than a half-step, but many are moving the foot much more. Ask a teammate to check this phase of your delivery if you're having problems. You should lengthen the steps as you approach the foul line, of course.

49ers Name UOP's Scovil Coach Of Kicking Game

COMBINED AP & UP

The San Francisco 49ers have named University of Pacific head football coach Doug Scovil as their kicking coach.

Scovil, 42, will take over the duties of Joe Perry, who joins the 49er scouting organization.

Scovil, who took over a dismal UOP grid program and brought it to a 7-3 mark last season, helped develop Minnesota punter Bob Lee and Austrian field goal kicker Stefan Schroeder, who was drafted by the Buffalo Bills.

UOP offfcials said no timetable had been chosen for selection of the new coach, but they indicated they considered several of the present assistants were well qualified.

SPORTS SHORTS

Golf

PALM BEACH GARDENS, FLA. — Sam Snead is still complaining about his putting, but his long game was good enough yesterday to put him within one stroke of the lead in the PGA Seniors championship.

Veteran club pro Henry Ransom had the first-round lead with a two-under-par 70. Snead and former PGA tour pros Tommy Bolt and Paul Runyan were tied for second at 71.

Basketball

DENVER — Joe Belmont signed a contract to coach the Denver Rockets of the American Basketball Association for the rest of this season as well as for the 1970-1971 campaign.

CORVALLIS, Ore. — Oregon State basketball coach Paul Valenti says he has "no comment" on reports he plans to resign after this season.

Athletic Director Jim Barratt also declined comment, saying that "several announcements will be made" after the athletic board meets tomorrow afternoon.

Auto Racing

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. — Officail qualifying for starting positions began this morning for the 24-hour Daytona Endurance Race and most observers were betting that one of the new Porsche prototypes would wind up at the head of the field.

Porsche, fielding three of its new 5-liter, 600 horsepower 917 models for the two-day, twice-around-the-clock marathon, had the highest unofficial speeds in practice and appeared to have few mechanical problems.

Football

NEW YORK — Each member of the Kansas City Chiefs will receive a record $7,755.79 as a winning share from the American Football League championship game, AFL President Milt Woodard announced yesterday. Oakland was awarded 50 shares of the losers' take-home pay of $6,326.69, also an AFL record.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. — A.S. Gaither, the graying, slow-moving head football coach at Florida A&M, who had a 203-36-4 record over 25 years of coaching, has retired.

Gaither's successor as head coach and head of the physical education department will be line coach Robert "Pete" Griffin.

BEDFORD, Va. — Gus Welch, the last survivor of the famed Carlisle Indian School football team that included the legendary Jim Thorpe, died of a heart attack at the age of 78.

BERKELEY — Jack Williamson, head trainer at the University of California, has announced retirement plans. Williamson, 61, has been on the Cal training staff for 40 years and was head trainer since 1942. Bob Orr, 30, will succeed Williamson.

Tennis

AUCKLAND New Zealand — Ray Ruffels of Australia defeated Nike Pilic of Yugoslavia, 6-4, 0-6, 6-4, 2-6, 6-4, in the men's singles quarter-finals of the Benson and Hedges Open Tennis Tournament today.

In other quarter-final matches, Roger Taylor of Britain eliminated Phil Dent of Australia, 1-6, 6-3, 6-0, 6-4, and Tom Okker of the Netherlands ousted John Alexander of Australia, 6-4, 6-4, 6-4. The women's semi-finalists are Mrs. Ann Jones of Britain and Mrs. Margaret Court of Australia.

Bowling

SAN JOSE — Nelson Burton Jr., of St. Louis, averaging 224 for 24 qualifying games, led the way into the semifinals of the $65,000 San Jose Open Tourney with a 67-pin lead with a 5,378 score after four rounds.

Player Of Decade: Koufax Surprised

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sandy Koufax had a one-word reaction when advised he had been named Baseball Athlete of the Decade in a special poll conducted by the Associated Press.

"Incredible," said the former Los Angeles Dodger pitcher, a hard-throwing, soft-speaking left-hander many call the greatest in the annals of baseball.

Koufax, who retired at 30 after the end of the 1966 season because of a chronic, pain-enduring arthritic condition in his pitching elbow, is a man of many attributes.

"I think it's incredible because there were guys like Mays and Mantel and Henry Aaron who were great players for 10 years or more.

"After all, my big years were not spread over a full decade. I only had four or five good years."

Sandy had best check the records. In six years of the past decade, 1961-1966, he won 129 games and lost only 47 and in his final four his won-loss history was 25-5, 19-5, 26-8 and 27-9—and those were years when the elbow was in misery.

Sandy in his relatively brief but golden years won the Cy Young Award three times and pitched no-hit, no-run gems in successive years, from 1962 through 1965, and one of them was a perfect game.

Koufax after retirement accepted a fat, long term contract as a commentator with the National Broadcasting Company.

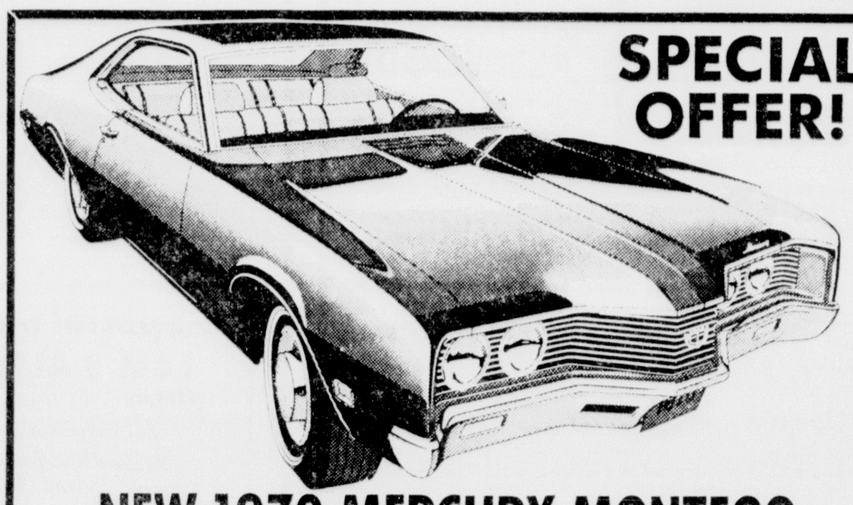

He was advised of the decade designation as he prepared to play golf at Riviera Country Club, to which he belongs. Golf has long been a Koufax concern. He carries an eight-handicap and said with a grin, "I can't play a lick."

Terra Linda Stops Redwood Wrestlers

Terra Linda High School upped its Marin County Athletic League wrestling record to 2-1 with a 39-13 win over Redwood yesterday at Terra Linda.

Ron Engel, Terra Linda's 113-pound ace, won his 16th match in a row for the Trojans.

Coming this Saturday in Marin Magazine

Special features you'll enjoy:

Recent issues of the Independent-Journal Marin Magazine have been featuring the detailed history of San Rafael, written by the I-J's late historian, Florence Donnelly. It will be completed with a third and final installment tomorrow. Marinites will want to continue to share the knowledge of county and community history as written by a woman who was, perhaps, the best single source of information about our early history for many years.

You expect talk with your haircut. And perhaps some radio music. In earlier times, there was the traditional barbershop harmony. But a flute solo? A composition by Bach or Mozart? You might encounter just that if you visit the Marin shop of Clive Hawthorne, barber and musician. Gil Pearson, freelance writer, tells the story of this unusually talented hair stylist in a special feature in tomorrow's I-J weekend supplement.

THE SPORTING GENTRY

Nave Brothers Triple Your Pleasure

By RALPH CHATOIAN

If you like talking to a funny man who can keep you laughing, start a conversation with the Nave boys and triple your pleasure.

Bill Jr. is the oldest at 45, then come Bob, 43, and Rich, 39. And the man behind it all is William "Bill" Nave Sr., 69, their father and lifelong Marin County man.

Although Bill Sr. is the real "boss" the three boys run things at Nave Lanes near Ignacio. Or as Bob says about the business, "He furnishes the money and we spend it." Or as Rich says, "He watches us, and we watch each other."

Although overlapping in duties, Bill runs the restaurant and bar, Rich is in charge of the bowling, and Bob takes care of personnel and mechanical parts of the business. Bob also runs the Nave Shopping Center on Novato Boulevard in Novato.

SPANISH GRANT

Bill Sr. was born in a home that stood where the shopping center is now located. The property was once a Spanish land grant.

The three Nave boys are practically identical in builds, short and stocky, the same build as Bill Sr., the same as his brother Louis, known more as "Uncle Lou."

The three Nave boys were probably at their funniest when it came time for the Golf Carnivale, an annual event at the nearby Marin Country Club, across Highway 101 from Nave Lanes. The last two years the tournament has gotten to be a little more for the serious golfers. And it's a shame.

MONKS, DICTATORS

In earlier years, the big thing was costumes, and the Nave boys won five out of six times before the tourney changed its format to more serious golf. In different years, the Naves were Romans, Monks, mummies, spacemen (pronounced space-a-man), cavemen--complete with 60-foot dinosaur--and Hitler, Mussolini and Tojo on a German tank. That last one was so good they were stopped en route on Highway 101 by a California Highway Patrol officer who was somewhat shocked after stopping the tank to watch Hitler, Mussolini and Tojo emerge with hands raised.

Bill Jr., who bowls in three leagues, can recall when they used to bowl in leagues every night, just to fill spots for new teams. Bob now bowls in two and Rich in one.

LONG HOURS

"When we first opened up," recalls Bill Jr. about the years shortly after Nave Lanes' grand opening in 1960, "we literally slept here overnight sometimes and putting 13 and 14 hours a day here was common."

There was a continual flow of Naves at San Rafael High School for 10 straight years, 1938 until '48 and all played Class B football which was really big in popularity and little in size, the bigger guys all playing varsity.

After serving some time in the Navy, Bill was discharged and came back to start school at College of Marin. Rich had just been graduated from San Rafael High, so they both ended up at College of Marin at the same time. The two starting halfbacks for Marin that year, 1948, were two Naves, Bill and Rich.

In the meantime Bob was serving as a paratrooper in the Army, and Rich later joined the Marine Corp, so services were well represented.

Bill and Rich completed college and earned teaching credentials, and coached a short while at San Rafael High. They were assistants to Paul Miller, the same coach they played for in earlier days.

Their first business venture was in the Redwood Empire Music Co. in 1950. A fancy sunding naome fr a jukebox company.

They then went into the bowling business in 1960, and it was purely by accident.

HOLDING BAG

The Naves had spent a lot of time and money with preliminary work for a bowling house, but it was to be leased out. The man who was going to run the business instead took off for Europe, and there the Naves were, holding the bowling bag.

"We went ahead with the deal," said Bill Jr., "and all four of us went off to Brunswick's managerial school. We didn't want to give up on the bowling plans after all that work."

A very productive lot, the three Nave boys have 17 children among them. Rich and Dolly Nave have five sons and three daughters, Bill and Louise have three daughters and two sons, and Bob and Doris have foursome. They all live in San Rafael.

High School Cager Scores Even 100

EBARB, La. (AP) — Greg Procell, a 5-foot-11 senior, scored an even 100 points Thursday night to lead Ebarb High School to a 139-79 victory over Elizabeth High School.

PREP BASKETBALL

San Rafael Faces Do-Or-Die Battle

Would you believe that tonight is practically now or never for San Rafael High School's basketball team?

Tonight's the night when the Bulldogs meet up with unbeaten defending champion Redwood in Larkspur at 8:15 in the big MCAL showdown.

The situation is, for all practical purposes, that the Bulldogs can't really afford to lose this one. They've lost once already in their opener against Drake, 52-51. Even though Redwood coach Dick Hart points out that a lot can happen in seven games, the way his Giants ripped through the first half so far, another loss for the Bulldogs means they would need help along the way, which may be a tall order for any of the rest of the teams.

Hart, by the way, is appropriately respectful of the Bulldogs.

"They've got to be a darn good team," he said. "They're very aggressive, they board well, and they can score."

Any team with a 16-3 won-lost record can't be all bad, and the Bulldogs are not, even though they are probably not nearly as balanced as the Giants (17-3).

What the Bulldogs do have is one heck of a good and big center in 6-foot-8 center Don Duryee, currently scoring at a 24-point clip in league play and a usually high-scoring guard in veteran Bruce Nave, who is scoring at a 15-point pace. Plus, there is a tough zone defense, a press that invariably gets results and a come-from-behind toughness that Redwood hasn't really had to show in league play.

"Obviously, Redwood is a fine team," says San Rafael coach Mike Diaz. "But I think we've come a long way. I think we've shown that we're a good team. And we certainly can't afford to lose this one."

The Bulldogs don't have any explosive scoring behind Duryee or Nave, but Allan Rossi, a great leaper and feeder, has the potential to score high. So far, he hasn't really had to. Bruce D'Ambra and Chris Bonner provide board help, and Lowell Widmer is a fine ballhandler and defender.

Redwood doesn't have a center of the quality of Duryee, but the Giants do have a couple of big boys who aren't what you'd call bad. Six-foot-seven Bill Challender is experienced and boards well while Scott Trobbe shoots and scores well.

Redwood's main strength is in its array of great shooters, the kind of thing that spurred the Giants to he championship last year. eVerans Jerry Piro, John Boro and Roger Smith are even better this year, and they can tear a game apart. All three are averaging in double figures in league play, topped by Piro's 15 points per game.

AS A WHOLE, THE Giants are shooting around the 46 per cent mark from the floor, and a great bench topped by either Charley Flynn or Tom Marker has added to that percentage.

Boro and Piro spearhead a tough, ball-hawking defense and make the fast break go.

"No doubt about it, our biggest problem is their shooting," Diaz said. "There's no way to really stop that totally, but you might make them shoot from farther out, or upset their timing."

The Bulldogs would appear to have the better defense, and since losing to Drake have coasted in the rest of their games. The Giants have had some scary first halves along the way but, like Hart says, "There are two halves to every game."

Bay Girl Claims Filipino Suitor Did Not Kidnap Her

MANILA (UPI)—A California girl told police today she planned to marry the Filipino they said kidnapped her from a suburban college dormitory three days ago.

Police put Deborah Stevenson, 20, of South San Francisco in protective custody and continued the search for her suitor, Cris Lecaroz, 23, nephew of a provincial governor and congressman.

Lecaroz will be charged with abduction, illegal discharge of a weapon and trespass, according to Police Chief Tomas B. Karingal of suburban Quezon City, where the incident occurred.

Detectives found Miss Stevenson Thursday in Candelaria, 60 miles southeast of Manila, and brought her to Manila for questioning today. Lecaroz, who had been with her, slipped the dragnet.

"I was not kidnapped," the girl told Karingal. She said she was not yet married to Lecaroz "but I would like to marry him. We planned to elope."

Miss Stevenson disputed the police report that Lecaroz barged into her Maryknoll College dormitory Tuesday night, fired two shots and dragged her outside into a taxi.

"There were no shots," she said. But police produced two bullets they said they had taken out of the walls of the dormitory of the Roman Catholic college where Miss Stevenson is a freshman.

She appeared at the police station this morning in a yellow blouse and skin-tight black pants, her brunette hair combed down to her shoulders. The police said protective custody was ordered because of the seriousness of the case.

Chief Karangal put through an overseas telephone call to the girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Stevenson of South San Francisco, and she assured them she was safe and in good health.

"I still feel the same way about Cris," she told them. "I'll be coming home as soon as I can get an immigration clearance. He (Cris) was in the province with me but he didn't give himself up."

She met Lecaroz in May during her reign as a local beauty queen. They dated frequently and apparently had plans to marry when a quarrel broke up the courtship, temporarily, last Friday.

GOP Appointee

Mrs. Albert R. Arendell of Novato has been appointed as associate member of the Marin County Republican Central Committee, chairman Charles Michals of Greenbrae reported. She is the newly elected president of the Novato Federated Republican Women.
